SUCCEEDS FELDER

WARREN GRICE,
New attorney general of Georgia.

GRICE IS APPOINTED ATTORNEY GENERAL TO SUCCEED FELDER

Prominent Hawkinsville Attorney Is Named for the High Office by Governor Slaton.

FELDER'S RESIGNATION TAKES EFFECT APRIL 15

Leaves Office in Order to Enter Upon Active Campaign for United States Senate.

Thomas S. Felder on Monday tendered to Governor John M. Slaton his resignation as attorney general of the state, becoming effective April 15, to enter actively into his campaign for election to the unexpired term of the late United States Senator A. O. Bacon.

The resignation reached the governor's office shortly after the governor's arrival Monday morning. The governor had hardly returned from lunch when he announced the appointment of Warner Grice, of Hawkinsville, to succeed Attorney General Felder.

Attorney General Felder's letter of resignation to Governor Slaton was as follows:

Letter of Resignation.

Hon. John M. Slaton, Governor of Georgia.—Dear Sir: I hereby tender you my resignation as attorney general, to become effective on the 15th day of April, next. I take this step because I am entering upon an active campaign for the United States senate.

In thus terminating my incumbency, I desire to express my appreciation of the uniform courtesy and consideration shown me by the executive and the other departments of the state. The generous and unfailing co-operation on the part of my fellow-workers in the capitol during my three years of service has made the performance of the duties of the attorney general's office a genuine pleasure.

With best wishes, I am respectfully yours, T. S. FELDER.

March 30, 1914.

The news of Attorney General Felder's resignation spread quickly, and in a short while friends of various prominent lawyers about the state had assembled in the governor's waiting room to urge the appointment of this or the other friend.

Governor Slaton, however, lost no time in making the appointment.

Prominent Attorney.

Mr. Grice is a prominent attorney of Hawkinsville, and is popular and well known over the state. He has served several terms in the general assembly from Pulaski county, and has held various other public offices.

In making his appointment Governor Slaton issued no formal statement.

He said to newspaper men:

I consider the state fortunate in having so able a lawyer as Mr. Grice. He is my friend, and I have been with him in several terms of the general assembly.

I considered him seriously when I made my appointment of Judge Wade to the appellate bench. I feel sure that his service to the state will amply justify the choice that I have made.

Mr. Felder will establish his political headquarters in Macon immediately upon his resignation becoming effective, and will open his campaign for the short-term senatorship.

Mr. Felder will "stump" the state thoroughly for his election. He has declared himself to be running entirely without adherence to factional lines. He will pursue a face-to-face-with-the-voters policy in his campaign.

Grice's Splendid Record.

Hawkinsville, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—Warren Grice, member of the Hawkinsville, Pulaski county, bar, was today named by Governor Slaton as attorney general to succeed Thomas S. Felder, resigned, the resignation to become effective on April 15. Mr. Grice will accept the appointment.

Mr. Grice was born in 1875 in Houston county, and while very young moved to Hawkinsville, where, since 1894, he has been engaged in the practice of law. In 1901 he married Miss Clara E. Rumph, of Marshallville, daughter of S. H. Rumph, the "peach

$750,000 Bonds for Greater Hospital Receives Indorsement of City Council; Will Authorize Election on Wednesday

"HAM" LEWIS SEES THE WORLD READY TO COMBINE IN A WAR TO CRUSH THE UNITED STATES

Voters of Atlanta Will Pass on Issue on the Date of the County Election, in Which More Than 14,000 Ballots Are Expected to Be Cast.

HOSPITAL BONDS ONLY ISSUE BEFORE PEOPLE, COMMITTEE'S DECISION

Effort to Tack on Bonds for Other Needed Improvements for Atlanta Defeated—$30,000 of Issue Will Be Offered the People in Small Denominations.

Submission of an issue of $750,000 improvement bonds for Grady hospital will be authorized by Atlanta's general council when it meets again Wednesday afternoon.

Council will direct that the election be held on May 5, and that the hospital bonds be the only municipal issue before the people. The election will be held on the same date of the county election, in which more than 14,000 voters of Atlanta will participate.

The issue will be in serial bonds instead of thirty-year bonds, and will pay 4 1-2 per cent per annum. Of the issue, $720,000 will be in denominations of $1,000 per bond, and $30,000 in "baby bonds" of $10 each, as suggested by Mayor James G. Woodward.

Saving by Serial Bonds.

Through substitution of serial bonds for thirty-year bonds council will save the city approximately $498,000 on the entire issue.

W. G. Humphrey, chairman of council's finance committee, assured council that the $42,000 which must be set aside this year for interest and sinking fund for the issue, if it is authorized by the people and floated before January 1, will be put in the June apportionment sheet. He would not state from what source the money will come, but he satisfied members of council that the money will be in the sheet. Under the state law, the city must provide $17,000 interest and $35,000 sinking fund, provided the issue is floated before January 1, 1915.

After that date, the law requires the city to levy a tax for refunding the debt. The machinery of the tax office will be put to work immediately, and the only burden on the city will be a bit of extra bookkeeping, for the reason that within six months after the money is available for use the city will be deriving an income of $158,600 from the hundred pay wards.

Council's Aid Assured.

The campaign started by Grady enthusiasts now has the status of being assured, in so far as Atlanta's general council is concerned. The most strenuous campaigning now will be among the voters. The committee will enlist the aid of every man, woman and child in the work of interesting the people in the election.

Wednesday afternoon council will meet again to receive the report of its committee. The report was agreed on after the meeting of the committee, Monday afternoon. Council's work will not end by the adoption of the resolution authorizing the issue, but it will engage in working out the details. These details include the methods of expending every penny of the $750,000 which will be derived from the sale of the bonds. For instance, council must sanction that so much be spent on such a building, and so much on some other building.

Except from a desire on the part of some members of council to be more fully informed as to the plans of the Grady hospital, the meeting of council Monday was absolutely harmonious. Alderman Albert Thomson protested against holding the election on May 5, and he argued strongly in favor of submitting, along with the Grady bonds, proposals for bonds for sewers, cyclorama, plaza and other projects. It was through Alderman Thomson's insistence that council authorized Mayor Woodward to appoint a committee of ten to discuss with the Grady campaigners the advisability of making the hospital bonds an exclusive project.

Committee Is Named.

Mayor Woodward appointed Alderman J. R. Seawright chairman of the committee, and as members Messrs. Kelley, McDonald, Thomson, Sisson, Nutting, Colcord, Humphrey, Smith and Ragsdale.

The committee met immediately after council adjourned. Various phases of the subject were discussed. Councilman Humphrey and Martin Amorous, ex-member of council, recommended that the bonds be serial bonds instead of thirty-year bonds. Councilman Smith protested against haste. He also pointed out that there were some features of the proposed plans which were not entirely in accord with the law. The committee worked out the objectionable features, and will be ready to make its report on Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock.

The ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds was introduced by Alderman James R. Nutting. It was signed by five other members of council. Alderman Nutting made a forceful appeal to council to authorize the bond issue. He pointed out that every member of council possibly would like to have bonds voted for other improvements, but he declared that the request of the Grady committee should

JUVENILE COURTS CLOSELY RELATED TO DIVORCE COURTS

Chicago, March 30.—No divorce should be granted any person who has a minor child, unless the child shall have been provided for to the satisfaction of the court, is the conclusion of Adelor J. Petit, chief justice of the circuit court, in an analysis made public today of the first annual report of the new municipal bureau of divorce and marriage statistics.

The close relations between divorce courts and the juvenile courts as indicated in the number of petitions for the care of dependent or delinquent children, is the outstanding feature of Judge Petit's analysis. Juvenile court records since July, 1899, showed 50,358 petitions for the care of children. Of these, the report indicates that approximately 33,750 cases were the direct result of divorces or the neglect of parents through drunkenness or desertion, which would have constituted sufficient grounds for divorce.

"The last school census showed a total of 620,233 children here under 14 years of age. A comparison of the number of children in the city with those which have appeared in the juvenile court in the five years of its existence shows how serious the divorce situation has become."

The report showed that approximately 5,000 divorces a year were granted in Cook county and that in more than two-thirds of the cases the actions were brought by the women.

HUGE THEFT LAID TO BANK CASHIER

Brown, Who Is Also Mayor of Gallatin, Tenn., Accused—Brown Reported That Bank Was Robbed.

Nashville, Tenn., March 30.—The arrest of Will B. Brown, mayor of Gallatin, and assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Gallatin, on a charge of embezzlement, and the arrest of Herbert B. Jackson, of Gallatin, an employee of the state mining department, on a charge of conspiracy and aiding and abetting Brown in embezzlement, came as a sensational climax Monday night to the reported robbery of the Gallatin financial institution on the morning of Friday, March 20.

The warrant on which the arrests were made was sworn out before United States Commissioner Harry Luck, at Nashville, by Edward J. Brennan, special agent of the department of justice, Monday morning.

The warrant charges Brown with embezzling more than $30,000 of the funds of the bank.

An official of the bank stated Monday night that the shortage at the institution is estimated at between $30,000 and $60,000.

Jackson was arrested in Nashville Monday afternoon by a federal officer. He was taken before United States Commissioner Luck, and his bond was fixed at $5,000.

Brown was arrested at his residence at Gallatin at 10:25 o'clock Monday night by United States Marshal Will Jones and Detectives Kiger and Jacobs, of Nashville. He was brought to Nashville in his own automobile.

Brown had been assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Gallatin for six years.

In January he was elected for a second term as mayor of Gallatin. This is said to be the only public office that he has ever held. Brown is married and has two children.

Brown's income, so far as the officers have been able to learn, has been as follows:

As assistant cashier of the bank, $100 per month.

As mayor of Gallatin, $80 per year.

From insurance business, in which he operated under the firm name of Brown & Spradlin, $400 or $500 per year. Mr. Spradlin is individual bookkeeper at the bank.

FREE TOLLS ADVOCATES ARE SCORED BY WILSON

President Charges Attempt to Discredit Administration—Final Vote in House Today — Interest Centers in Clark's Speech.

Washington, March 30.—On the eve of the vote in the house of representatives on the repeal of American toll exemption in the Panama canal act, congress today was completely absorbed in the controversy. Verbal artillery thundered throughout the day in both house and senate.

While opposing forces were clashing in oratorical flights at the capitol President Wilson took occasion to discuss the all-engrossing situation with callers, expressing keen regret that what had promised to be a dignified contest over principles had degenerated into a fight upon the administration. While on the subject President Wilson characterized as "a crowning insult of a number of insults" in the debate the declaration of Representative Knowland, of California, that the administration had made a deal to repeal the tolls exemption with Sir William Tyrrell, secretary of Sir Edward Gray, British secretary for foreign affairs.

Just a Subsidy, Says Wilson.

President Wilson declared that, on account of the contradictory statements in the Baltimore platform, democrats should have no hesitation in voting for the repeal of the Panama canal tolls exemption.

The president emphatically characterized the exemption as a subsidy, and pointed out that one plank in the Baltimore platform expressed opposition to any subsidy direct or indirect, while another plank declared for tolls exemption. The president asserted there should be no doubt among democrats as to which should take precedence.

The president reiterated that the exemption never was a policy of the democratic house, because it was passed through a coalition of republicans and a minority of democrats, the majority of democrats voting against it on the ground that it was a subsidy.

The president explained that, even if the international situation, to which he referred in his message, had not arisen, he would have been opposed to the tolls exemption as against democratic doctrine. But he indicated, however, that if it were not for the international situation, he did not feel that it would have been proper for him to question the acts of a previous administration.

One of Many Insults.

Mr. Wilson talked frankly about the tolls controversy in congress, saying that the story that he had entered into a bargain with Great Britain through Sir William Tyrrell, private secretary to Sir Edward Grey, was one of a number of insults that had been introduced in the congressional debate.

The president declared he wanted to express his regret that what had promised to be a dignified contest, with genuine differences of opinion, seemed to be degenerating, in his opinion, into an attempt to discredit the administration. He remarked that, while it made all the more certain the result in favor of the administration, he thought it a great pity that public affairs should be handled in that way. He did not think all the opponents of the repeal felt that way, but much color had been interjected in the controversy, and he did not understand the motives for it. The president said he had no anxiety over any political friction in the democratic party over the result, and referred to the repeal contest as not a "capital operation," but just a "convalescence."

Opposed to Compromise.

Mr. Wilson let it be known that he was unqualifiedly opposed to any compromise or amendments such as have been proposed in the senate. He is for a straight repeal without equivocation.

The white house later authorized a quotation of what the president had said in answer to the charge to the effect that the president had made a deal with Sir William Tyrrell, private secretary to Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary. The president had been asked if the charges were true. The president replied:

"Of course, that answers for itself. It is just the crowning insult of a number of insults which have been introduced in this debate. This whole thing reminds me of a story I used to be fond of telling of a very effective de-

AIDS ORPHANAGE

MRS. J. HILLMAN,
Washington woman who has given $14,000 to Atlanta Hebrew Orphans' home.

$14,000 IS GIVEN TO ORPHANS' HOME

Mrs. Joel Hillman Makes Donation as the Basis for the Silver Jubilee Endowment Fund.

As the result of action on the part of delegates, and particularly Mrs. Joel Hillman, of Washington, D. C., last night, at the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Atlanta Jewish Orphans' asylum, on Washington street, Atlanta will soon become the center of Jewish national orphanage work.

Following the generous donation of Mrs. Hillman, in turning over $14,000 to the home as the basis for an endowment fund, it is proposed now to solicit similar donations from charitably inclined leaders in the Jewish work and to place the local institution on a basis that will insure its steady progress toward its highest ideals—that of a national home for Jewish orphans.

$14,000 for Endowment.

Mrs. Hillman, in her address, following the exercises in commemoration of the anniversary of the orphanage last night, presented to the new president of the board of directors, Harold Hirsch, $14,000, to be used as a basis of an endowment fund for the home, the interest of which will, when the sum is finally completed, take care of maintainance and general upkeep of the institution.

The donation of Mrs. Hillman came as a surprise to the majority of the delegates present at the gathering of the B'nai B'rith. These delegates informally pledged themselves to secure additional endowment funds throughout the entire scope of the organization and to report back to the orphanage directorate next year.

During Mrs. Hillman's speech she was interrupted for a moment by Simon Wolf, honorary president of the orphanage, who, in a fitting speech, presented Mrs. Hillman with a silver medal suitably inscribed and which expressed the well wishes of the B'nai B'rith. Mrs. Hillman was visibly affected, but continued with her address.

History of Orphanage.

Mrs. Hillman reviewed the life and history of the orphanage, and continued:

"I say now with sorrow, that the maintenance of the home has not been always equal to the need. Often and often has the usefulness of the home been curtailed by reason of dearth of adequate funds, and often, indeed, has the very subsistence of the home been endangered by lack of funds for its daily actual necessities.

"In fact, this very last year there were a deficit of over $6,000, which the income of the home could not provide for, and for the first time in its history the local board of managers were compelled to make an appeal to the general public.

"The home must be placed upon a safe foundation so that the deep stigma of failure on our part shall not be added to the tragedy of death and poverty and helpfulness.

"That this Silver Jubilee Endowment fund may be established, and the safety of the home made secure, I have made a feeble attempt at a beginning thereof. I announce the completion of my task, and, Mr. President, present the Atlanta Orphans' home the sum of $14,000 as the beginning, and it is now in your hands to bring it to a more beautiful and honorable accomplishment."

In concluding her remarks Mrs. Hillman paid a glowing tribute to Simon Wolf, founder and president of the home.

Simon Wolf's Speech.

Simon Wolf, founder of the orphanage, and for twenty-five years its president, followed Mrs. Hillman.

Mr. Wolf made a stirring plea for greater effort on the part of such agencies as the B'nai B'rith toward the solution of many of the economic questions presented to the Jews as a race.

One of the pretty features of the evening's entertainment was the pantomime staged by Mrs. R. A. Sonn, wife of the superintendent of the orphanage, and in which the children of the orphanage appeared.

Mrs. Sonn was ably assisted by Miss Sylvia Spritz and Mrs. J. Greenfield.

DEATH IS KING AT TORREON; REBELS AND HUERTA TROOPS STILL BATTLING FOR CITY

TWICE WHIPPED, VILLA HAMMERS WAY TO VICTORY

New York Correspondent Says Rebel Luck Is Overcoming Rebel Reverses in Long Battle at Torreon.

INSANITY OVERTAKES HUERTA COMMANDER

Rebel Progress Slow, but Capture of Torreon Is Assured — Bad Powder Responsible for Early Reverses of the Rebels.

El Paso, Texas, March 30.—A tale of rebel reverses and rebel luck was brought here tonight from the front by John Reed, correspondent of The New York World, and Robert Dorman, a photographer. They left the front Saturday morning, at which time they estimated that the rebel loss was 2,000 in killed and wounded.

"We were whipped twice at Gomez Palacio," related Dorman, "but the federals didn't have the good sense to follow up their advantage. Villa returned to the attack after reorganizing and ultimately occupied the city. We were whipped right there, but Velasco, the federal commander didn't know it. Federal prisoners whom we captured said that Velasco later went insane in the trenches. He is a cripple of previous revolutions, and has a bad arm and a bad leg.

Huerta General Went Insane.

"The prisoners told us he went mad at Gomez Palacio and went raging up and down the lines cursing and issuing absurd orders. Ultimately his own officers put him under restraint.

"Our attack on Gomez Palacio was centered on the hill known as Cerrero de la Pilar. It is precipitous, and we made seven assaults before taking it. The result of each six assaults could be discerned after the battle by the rings of dead rebels. Their bodies distinctly marked the line where they were repulsed.

"The home-made shrapnel of the rebels had much to do with the early repulses at Gomez Palacio. Only about one in thirty exploded.

"General Villa is a fighting man. He was everywhere, and his greatest delight was to join the assaults on foot and throw hand grenades himself.

"Ultimately he will take Torreon. When we left Saturday morning the fight was in progress. It was slow, stubborn work, as the rebels had to fight from house to house, the enemy retreating from position to position through holes knocked in the mud-houses, which are built one against another."

Ban Placed On News.

Reed and Dorman, like other correspondents and photographers, were not only forbidden to send out news after the attack on Torreon began, but they themselves were forbidden to leave.

According to Reed, they bribed a section hand to allow them to use a gasoline propelled rail vehicle, which carried them to Bermejillo. There they caught a hospital train, which carried them to Chihuahua. All along the line they were stopped and questioned, but they still had their safe conduct passes from Villa, and managed to get through, as the verbal order against their departure had not been properly promulgated.

"We slept—actually slept—on the roof of the caboose to Chihuahua," Reed said. "In our waking moments we could hear the moans and cries of the wounded. As the wounded died they were simply shoved out of the cars. We didn't stop to bury them."

Reed and Dorman agreed that the superiority of the federals' artillery should have given them permanent victory, but for Velasco's failure to follow up his advantage.

Rapid-Fire Guns Deadly.

The rapid-fire guns, accurately trained on obstacles put in the way of the rebel advance, did the most damage, they said. The rebels simply fell in wind rows before the barbed wire entanglements. Each time, however, Villa was able to retreat without pursuit, and reform his men. Their valor was unaffected by their repulses, or by thirst and hunger.

All of the correspondents were made sick by drinking contaminated water from the irrigation ditches, and John W. Roberts, correspondent of The El Paso Morning Times, was confined to the hospital at the time Reed and Dorman departed. Dorman brought back a report that Colonel Victor Huerta, son of President Huerta, was among the federal dead.

He said, also, that British Vice Consul Cummings, of Gomez Palacio, was sent to Torreon by General Villa to suggest to General Velasco that he surrender.

Hines Wins $15,000,000 Suit.

Jackson, Miss., March 30.—Contentions of the Edward Hines Lumber company in a suit involving $15,000,000 worth of timber lands in this state, were upheld in a decision of the Mississippi supreme court here today. The state attorney general brought suit against the company to enforce a law providing that corporations could not hold more than $2,000,000 worth of land in Mississippi. The supreme court held the law constitutional but decided it affected only domestic corporations.

Confidential Agent of the Rebel Forces Officially Announces That Reports of a Huerta Victory Are Absurd.

VILLA IS USING GUNS AND HAND GRENADES, NOT TYPEWRITERS

Rebel Agent Admits Contest Has Been Stubborn, But Says Villa Is Certain of Victory—Villa Told the Correspondents No News Could Be Sent Until Torreon Had Been Taken.

Juarez, Mex., March 30.—The rebel and federal forces at Torreon are still engaged in battle, it was learned tonight. This information came from Roberto V. Pesquiera, confidential agent of the constitutionalists in the United States, who recently arrived here from Washington.

Senor Pesquiera spent the afternoon and part of the evening in this city investigating various rumors and so-called official reports dealing with the situation at the front. At the conclusion of his investigation he telegraphed a long report to associates in Washington, and later talked with newspaper men. The constitutionalist secretary of the interior, Senor Zubaran, was present at the interview.

Contest Very Bloody.

They had no facts to divulge save fighting continued, and that the contest thus far had been bloody and stubbornly contested on both sides. They stated that no telegram from General Villa had been received saying that General Velasco had suggested a conditional surrender. They asserted positively, on the other hand, that federal reports of victory were absurd.

"I believe that the rebels tonight are making a concerted attack on the federal positions," said Secretary Zubaran. "With what success I do not known; but in the end I believe General Villa is certain of victory. Mexicans are fighting against Mexicans, and the contest is stubborn, but the moral force, which in the end will spell victory, is on our side. Some of the telegrams credited to General Villa have not really been sent by him. Whence they came I do not know.

Guns and Hand Grenades.

"Villa is using guns and hand grenades, not typewriters. He told the correspondents at the front frankly that they could send no dispatches until he had taken Torreon. There have been no such dispatches, and the conclusion, aside from our actual, though scanty, information, is clear. Torreon has not been taken.

"On the other hand, every fact at our command shows that the advantage is with us. We have Gomez Palacio and Lerdo, and a foothold in Torreon. The story is being told there. We may have the city in a day or a week, but in the end we will have it. We have no details; we know only that our men are fighting the big fight of the revolution, and that the advantage thus far is with us."

Huerta Supporters Joyous.

Meanwhile, the federal sympathizers on the El Paso side were deriving great comfort from telegrams said to have come from Torreon and the City of Mexico. These had it that the rebels had been put to disorderly flight from Gomez Palacio, Torreon and Lerdo.

No newspaper dispatches were received. The embargo on the sale of liquor was removed, but the restriction against persons entering the city after 10 o'clock at night remained. The Carranza commission appointed to investigate the death of William S. Benton will not be ready to report for some time, as Dr. Lara is at Chihuahua assisting in the care of the wounded.

Fugitive Federals Killed.

Eagle Pass, Texas, March 30.—Refugees who reached Piedras Negras, Mexico, from the vicinity of Monclova today reported that General Murgia's command of constitutionalists had intercepted several bands of fugitive federal volunteers from Torreon and killed them to the last man. No estimate was given of the casualties.

Murgia is operating between Monterey and Torreon, and is reported to have isolated the Torreon garrison from all communication with Mexico City and other federal forces at Monterey and Saltillo.

There has been no communication between Eagle Pass and Torreon over the government telegraph lines for five days. All railroads into Torreon from the east have been cut. General Joaquin Maas, who went to reinforce General Velasco at Torreon, made the trip overland in armored automobiles with his 800 men.

Murgia commands a strong force of constitutionalists, which, while taking no part in the attack on Torreon, has been working to prevent any assistance reaching the federals in the beleaguered city. He recently captured Monclova, confiscating large supplies in the railroad warehouses there, and proceeding south, cut communication with Monterey from Piedras Negras at Espinazo, ten miles above Reata, a junction point leading to both Monterey and Torreon. He then is reported to have burned several bridges on railroads which had been carrying supplies to both places.

Numerous small bands of constitutionalists are active around Monterey.

Villa in Practical Control.

Washington, March 30.—Over a special leased wire between Washington and El Paso, Mexican constitutionalist officials exchanged reports tonight on the military and financial conditions of their cause. Felicitos Villareal, minister of finance in the Carranza cabinet, sat at the Washington end of the wire, while Roberto V. Pesqueira, Washington agent of the constitutionalists, and Senor Zubaran, minister of gobernacion, were at El Paso.

After the conference it was said that General Villa had practical control of the situation at Torreon, and that the financial status of the movement was growing better daily. It is believed the reports sent from Senor Villareal were for the benefit of General Carranza, who has just arrived at Juarez.

Mexico City Knows Nothing.

Mexico City, March 30.—Fugitive rebels who have arrived at Saltillo and surrendered to the government forces there confirm the stories of a rebel defeat at Torreon, according to advices received by the war department.

With this exception, no news of the developments at Torreon has been received at the capital, although rumors of a federal defeat are as persistent as the government's reiteration of a rebel rout.

General Javier de Moure, in command of reinforcements for the federals at Torreon, is still at San Pedro.

ECZEMA ITCHED FOR 20 YEARS--- RESINOL CURED

All Over Face, Arms and Hands. Would Walk the Floor All Night.

Dec. 8, 1913: "I had eczema for 20 years. It started on me when I was but 13 years old and am now 34, and have suffered all these years. It started with small pimples all over my face, arms and hands. My hands would swell up so that I could not shut them, and I was almost blind. It would itch, then burn, and I had to keep the affected parts wrapped up so that I would not scratch them. I couldn't sleep at all—just walked the floor a whole night.

"I have tried many different remedies, and spent a large sum of money, but had no relief. Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment were recommended to me. They gave me great relief after the third application, and after using four jars of Resinol Ointment and three cakes of Resinol soap, I am completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. H. E. Fleager, Box 13, Dauphin, Pa.

Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap quickly heal skin eruptions, clear away pimples and blackheads, and form a most valuable household treatment for sores, burns, boils, piles, etc. For trial size, free, write to Resinol, Dept. 10-R, Baltimore, Md. Sold by all druggists. Prescribed by doctors for 19 years.

WORKMAN BADLY HURT IN ANSLEY ELEVATOR

Walter Moore, of 70 Pearl street, a brickmason, was seriously injured by the elevator at the Ansley hotel this morning shortly after midnight, and is lying at the Grady hospital in a dying condition.

Moore, who was doing some work for the hotel on the basement floor, had just stepped into the elevator, and at the same time turned the lever controlling the lift, when it darted upward, his head being caught between the elevator's floor and the top of the elevator door.

He was rushed to the hospital in Patterson's ambulance.

PORTFOLIO OF WAR TAKEN BY ASQUITH

British Premier Confounds Opposition by Bold Stroke. Entire Army System of Britain May Be Recast.

London, March 30.—After all the many solutions of the government crisis, which had been proposed and discussed, Premier Asquith announced a solution to the house of commons today which none of the prophets had suspected or even expected. The premier himself will assume the burden of the war office, in addition to his other and almost crushing duties. He will resign from the house at this critical stage, when the second reading of the home rule bill is about to be taken up and will appeal for reelection to his constituents in East Fife, Scotland, within a few days.

No member of the Irish nationalist party, of which John E. Redmond is the head, uttered a word in the house. The Irishmen are letting the English fight it out alone. Premier Asquith, Viscount Morley, Colonel Seely and Generals French and Ewart all visited the king during the day.

French and Ewart Out.

Field Marshal Sir John French, chief of the imperial general staff, and General Sir John Ewart, adjutant general, declined to withdraw their resignations in spite of the army order issued Friday, which Viscount Haldane cleverly framed as a platform on which the generals might stand with consistency and honor.

It thus became impossible for Colonel J. E. B. Seely, who was co-signer with them of the assurances to Brigadier General Gough that the army would not be used to suppress the Ulster opposition to home rule, to retain the secretaryship of war. His resignation, therefore, was accepted, after he had been for some days under fire from the newspapers of his own party, which insisted that he must go.

Viscount Morley, of Blackburn, lord president of the council, who was partner with Colonel Seely in drafting the offending paragraphs of the document, stands in the same position, and his withdrawal from office is expected tomorrow.

Normally Without Premier.

These were the events in today's chapter of the continued story which is keeping the country at the highest pitch of excitement and suspense. The present situation is remarkable, in that the government nominally will be without a prime minister and without a leader in the house of commons until the bye-election is held in East Fife. The writ for the election must give eight days' notice, and probably will be issued tomorrow.

The only practical loss to the party meantime will be the withdrawal of Mr. Asquith's voice from the debates. He will preside over the cabinet meetings and direct maneuvers in the house of commons from an unofficial seat, while Reginald McKenna, the home secretary, and Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, will understudy him as house leader.

"Oh, I'll be handy if I'm wanted," Mr. Asquith remarked to Andrew Bonar Law, the opposition leader, who thought that the home rule bill could not be proceeded with in the absence of the premier.

PUMMELS HIGHWAYMAN AND THEN PURSUES HIM

Courageous Mrs. C. W. Wilson, of 150 Courtland street, confronted by a negro highwayman at Courtland and Houston streets, last night, put up such a plucky fight that the robber fled at full tilt.

He was given chase by his intended victim, who was joined by a passing street car motorman whose aid she summoned. The fleeing man darted down Courtland street past Ellis, and turned up East Cain street, distancing his pursuers.

Mrs. Wilson was returning home from a shopping trip uptown shortly before 8 o'clock, going down Houston. As she turned into Courtland she caught sight of a negro youth, who suddenly attacked her.

Mrs. Wilson showed instant fight. She struck out her right fist, catching the robber in the jaw. He caught hold of her wrists, but she jerked loose and pummeled him with vigor.

Suddenly the would-be robber fled down Courtland street. Mrs. Wilson picked up her skirts and pursued him, but in vain. Police headquarters was notified and Policemen Dodd and Cochran investigated the case.

HE CUT OFF THE HEADS OF HIS WIFE AND BABY

Shirley, Ark., March 30.—Elijah Huggins, farmer, was arrested at his home near Shirley today charged with having murdered and beheaded his wife and baby. Huggins, it is said, was recently released from the state insane asylum.

According to officers who brought the man to jail, Huggins' 9-year-old son charged that his father first lifted the baby from its cradle and dashed it against the wall of the room and then attacked his wife with a butcher-knife, piercing her body eleven times. Carrying the bodies to a rear porch he is alleged to have severed the heads of both.

The boy escaped and went to the home of a relative. Huggins offered no resistance when officers reached the scene and in jail here refused to make any statement.

SHE RODE ON A PASS, BUT WANTS DAMAGES

Washington, March 30.—Whether a railroad may avoid damages for injuries to a person riding on a pass, under terms of the Hepburn rate law, is to be considered by the supreme court. Attorneys for the Charleston and Western Carolina Railway company today filed a brief in court contending that it may.

The road seeks to have the court reverse the holding of the court of appeals of Georgia, that Mrs. Lizzie Thompson, who was hurt near Plum Branch, S. C., in 1910, while riding on a pass from McCormick, S. C., to Augusta, Ga., was entitled to damages.

Shot During a Quarrel.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 30.—Hugh F. Talbot, city engineer of West Palm Beach, was shot in the abdomen with a revolver during a dispute this afternoon with James R. Porter, hero. The two men are said to have quarreled over a real estate transaction. Porter was placed under arrest.

CHANGES ANNOUNCED IN CHAMBER OFFICERS

Albert Howell, Jr., Succeeds Colonel W. L. Peel as Third Vice President.

Following the acceptance of the resignation of Colonel W. L. Peel as third vice president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce Monday afternoon by the board of directors, Albert Howell, Jr., formerly fourth vice president, was elected to succeed him. H. G. Hastings, formerly fifth vice president, was elected fourth vice president, and Ivan E. Allen, a director, was elected fifth vice president.

To fill the place on the board of directors made vacant by Mr. Allen's election as an officer, J. R. A. Hobson was chosen for a term of one year, following the recommendation of the nominating committee.

ENORMOUS DECREASE IN RAILROAD INCOME

Washington, March 30.—A decrease in net operating income of $51,026,935, or 22.5 per cent, of the eastern railroads was described in a statement submitted to the interstate commerce commission today at the resumption of hearings in the advance rate case. The statement covers a period of seven months ending January 31, 1914, as compared with the corresponding period of last year.

The statement was presented on behalf of the railways by George Stuart Patterson, general counsel for the Pennsylvania railroad, who advised the commission that the figures had been tabulated from reports made to the commission by the roads.

The figures indicated a decrease in total freight revenues of $16,999,330; an increase in passenger revenues of $7,734,227; an increase of $2,269,574 in other sources of income, and a decrease in total operating revenues of $6,995,529, or 1.5 per cent. The total operating expenses showed an increase of $25,210,232, or 6.3 per cent. A general increase also was shown in various phases of railroad transportation, the aggregate showing the increase above stated in net operating income.

Clifford Thorne, chairman of the Iowa State railroad commission, representing eight western states in opposition to the proposed advance in rates, presented a synopsis of his recent testimony before the commission. He maintained that the contest was one between the carriers and shippers, and that any horizontal increase in rates would be unjustified.

In the course of his statement, Mr. Thorne said:

"If it were true that the net revenues of American railways were declining that would not establish the fact that their present net revenues are inadequate. The net revenues of former years may have been larger than were justifiable. We cannot assume, as a final basis for what is reasonable, the particular amount of earnings they had last year or the year before nor ten years ago. The ultimate test of what is reasonable is the fair value of the property.

"It may be that American railroads are not making a reasonable return on the value of their property. We cannot determine that issue until the national appraisal is completed.

"The tendency in net revenues from operation in the eastern district has been a constant increase, analagous to that in the United States. The net revenues of the railways in the eastern district—above all costs of labor, supplies and all other operating expenses and above taxes—during the last four-year period, have been higher than for any other four-year period. Their net revenues during each one of these four years were greater than during any other year in their whole history. In 1913 they were $170,000,000 greater than in 1898, and the increase in net revenues on these eastern railroads during the past fifteen years has been more than 100 per cent."

WILSON IS COMMENDED FOR HIS MEXIC POLICY

Minneapolis, Minn., March 30.—The United States should not make too much of the Monroe doctrine, declared Dr. Cyrus Northrop, president emeritus of the University of Minnesota, in an address today before a large audience of preachers representing several denominations. Dr. Northrop commended President Woodrow Wilson for his stand in the Mexican situation.

"Our attempt to make this government responsible for the good order and humanity of every nation in the western hemisphere is a job that is too big for us," he said.

"There are other South American republics capable of looking after their own welfare and the welfare of their neighbors if need be. There are Argentina and Brazil, for instance.

"As for Mexico, the situation there is simply horrible. If Villa succeeds in conquering Huerta it will be terrible. If Huerta succeeds in conquering Villa it will be terrible. If either one is left it will be bad. If each swallows the other it will be better."

FELDER'S ACTION CAUSES SURPRISE

Many Members of Georgia's Washington Delegation Did Not Believe He Would Run for the Senate.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 30.—(Special.)—The announcement that Attorney General Felder has resigned to make the race for Senator Bacon's unexpired term was received here today with considerable surprise by the Georgia delegation, as many of them had been led to believe that Felder would not really be a candidate.

Congressman Hardwick has been industriously engaged for the past few weeks in building his Georgia fences for this campaign. He has a large force of secretaries devoting practically their whole time to sending out thousands of his addresses throughout Georgia. It is said that the state is being literally broadcasted with them.

Congressman Hardwick could not be seen tonight for a statement, but a friend who had seen him early during the evening said that he had received a telegram from Atlanta notifying him of Felder's resignation, and that Mr. Hardwick himself seemed to manifest but little concern at the news.

It is known here that Mr. Hardwick has never, at any time, seriously considered Felder as a permanent factor in the contest and on more than one occasion Mr. Hardwick's friends have openly boasted that Felder would not be in the race to a finish.

The announcement that Felder has burned his bridges behind him as far as Hardwick is concerned, has put the Georgia gossips agog here tonight.

SAVED FROM GALLOWS BY DENIAL OF PARDON

Jefferson City, Mo., March 30.—By refusing today to pardon James Schrum, sentenced to a ninety-nine-year prison term for the murder of Mont Hall, Governor Major saved the man from death on the gallows. The prison sentence makes it impossible for the sheriff of St. Francois county to obtain Schrum and hang him for the murder of Gint Gibson, although the sentence of execution has been approved by the state supreme court.

Pensacola, Fla., March 30.—Salvatore Labrattol, 5 years old, according to railroad workmen on the Gulf, Florida and Alabama railroad dock here, went into one of the box cars yesterday afternoon, and has not been seen since. It is believed he went to sleep inside the car and was carried north later by an outgoing freight train. The child's parents have sent out tracers for all cars sent out during the afternoon and evening.

THICK HARD CRUST ON BABY'S HEAD

When Three Weeks Old. Pimples Would Run a Clear Water. Itched and Burned. Cross and Fretful. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and Was Cured.

Smithville, Okla.—"When my baby was three weeks old his head broke out in little pimples and these pimples would run a clear water. They itched and burned and he would scratch them and then they formed a thick hard crust. It seemed to annoy him terribly. He couldn't rest any way. When the scabs peeled off it would break out again and the scabs would get thicker till one side of his head looked to be an inch higher than the other. One side was a solid sore. He was so cross and fretful and I had to keep his hands fastened to keep him from scratching his head. They said it was scald head.

"We had tried two treatments but they didn't do it any good. His head had been sore nine months when I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed his head three or four times a day with the Cuticura Soap and then dried real dry and then applied the Cuticura Ointment. I used them and he was cured." (Signed) Mrs. Lillie Lester, June 19, 1913.

GERBER IS DELIGHTED BY ATLANTA SHOWING

Receipts From Season Seat Sale Astonish Auditor for Grand Opera.

Aime Gerber, auditor of the Metropolitan Opera company, made a flying trip to Atlanta yesterday to confer with Treasurer C. B. Bidwell and Assistant Treasurer Cecil Meyer, of the Atlanta Music Festival association, and check over the sale of season seats for this year's Atlanta opera season.

Mr. Gerber was astonished and delighted to see how far the season sale exceeded that of last year. He wired Mr. Gatti, and congratulated the local association.

"The business management of the Metropolitan," said Mr. Gerber, "has considered nothing short of wonderful the manner in which Atlanta and the south have come to the material support of Metropolitan Grand opera. Until the experiment was actually made we did not believe such a thing was possible outside of New York.

GIRLS! GIRLS! TRY IT, BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Make It Thick, Glossy, Wavy, Luxuriant and Remove All Dandruff.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.

ANDREWS CONSIDERING MAYORALTY CONTEST

Has Not Yet Decided Whether He Will Make Race in Next Election.

Colonel Walter P. Andrews, who went to Europe as President Wilson's envoy to interest the nations in the Pan-American exposition, returned to Atlanta at noon yesterday. Colonel Andrews said that, he has not made up his mind whether he will be a candidate for mayor of Atlanta against Mayor Woodward in the next city election, but he explained that he is still considering the boom started by his friends.

But Colonel Andrews does know that England is knocking the Frisco fair and the Panama canal, and he does not hesitate in stating that England's attitude toward America is nothing more than a bit of spitework. He told reporters upon his arrival that the members of President Wilson's commission were given assurances from almost every nation visited.

England Seems Peeved."

"England seems peeved at Uncle Sam for some reason," he said. "Exactly the cause of the feeling might be difficult to determine. From what I was able to learn, however, it was the fact that the United States has proposed to exercise its rights and exempt its own domestic ships from tolls in passage through the Panama canal."

Colonel Andrews says that the commission encountered sinister influences in many quarters, and that he heard that England and Germany had decided to ignore the exposition. Colonel Andrews explained that neither he nor the members of the commission who accompanied him on the tour know of any pact between Germany and Britain.

"Despite the undercurrent of ill feeling," Colonel Andrews continued, "the commission was successful in its mission. France, Greece, Turkey and Bulgaria gave us straight-out promises that they would be represented, and would build pavilions.

Reopen Consideration.

"Roumania, Servia, Portugal and Spain had declined to participate in the exposition before the visit of the commission, but afterwards Roumania, Spain and Portugal agreed to reopen consideration, and they decided to build pavilions. Servia is hardly expected to take part."

A number of prominent Elks were at the Terminal station when Colonel Andrews arrived. Among those first to greet the traveler were H. H. Milner, newly-elected exalted ruler; Robert Gordon and J. L. Ward, who went to Gainesville to meet the train; A. L. Dunn, W. P. Fain, Pat McHugh, Frank Manning, James Conn, I. S. Moss, John D. Simmons, John Hill, W. T. Waters and F. V. Smith.

Mrs. Stoe stood the ordeal calmly and composedly. Neither had she broken down when she was returned by Chief Deputy Marshal Brock to the Fulton county jail.

Funeral Services of Frank's Father-in-Law Will Be Held Today.

Emil Selig, the father-in-law of Leo M. Frank, died early Monday morning at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. C. F. Ursenbach, in the Washington apartments, No. 52 Washington Terrace.

For several months Mr. Selig has been in failing health, but his death was unexpected. Saturday he was up and seemed to feel better. He had never been confined to his bed. An illness from which he had suffered intermittingly seized him Sunday and his death followed in a few hours.

He had reached the age of 65. He was born in Germany, but had lived here most of his life. He was one of the most prominent and beloved of his people.

The body was removed to Greenberg & Bond's, where funeral services will be held from this morning at 10 o'clock. Rabbi David Marx will officiate. Interment at Oakland cemetery. The following pallbearers have been selected: Joe Gershon, Julius Simon, Charlie May, Ike Haas, Joe Fuld, Herman Fox, Herman Somers and Meyer Marcus.

The deceased is survived by his wife, three daughters, Mrs. Alex Marcus, Mrs. C. F. Ursenbach and Mrs. Leo M. Frank; two brothers, S. S. Selig, of Atlanta, and Joseph Selig, of New York, and one sister, Mrs. Alice Jacobus.

TALKS ON IMMIGRATION AT WESLEY MEMORIAL

Under the auspices of the D. of A., of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, Mrs. Julia T. Roth, of Toledo, Ohio, and Mrs. Lilla W. Thompson, of New Egypt, N. J., delivered lectures on immigration at Wesley Memorial church last night. The discussion was very interesting, and considering the inclemency of the weather there was a large attendance.

Now comes a new method of filing

For years and years—ever since the first filing cabinet was made—there has been endless discussion as to the superiority of the Alphabetic and Numeric methods of filing.

Each had—and has—its advocates; each its critics.

Now comes a new method of filing that combines many advantages of both the old methods; and has some advantages of its own.

It is called the "Automatic Index." Because it indexes itself, automatically.

With the "Automatic Index" it is easy to file letters correctly. It is difficult to file them incorrectly. Why? Because it provides a check against errors. That, perhaps, is the best thing about it—the feature that sets it apart from any and all other filing methods.

"Vertical Filing," sent on request. The best book on filing ever written.

THE MEDIEVAL CODE.

The Associated Press reports from Baltimore the success of an operation, performed a week ago, whereby the sight of a child will be restored by transplanting to its eyeball the cornea of a pig. The day after the operation was performed The Constitution carried an Associated Press report of it. The following day we received, and printed, a card from an eminent Atlanta specialist who declared the reported operation "impossible" and who scarified the breach of "medical ethics" that advertised a "fiasco" to the nation only to kindle hope in the hearts of the credulous. An Associated Press dispatch, published in a later Constitution, confirms the success of the operation. The child begins to see.

Incidentally, the episode corroborates The Constitution's contention, reiterated several times recently, that in justice to itself and humanity the medical profession should forswear the "ethics" of the middle centuries as they threw a veil of mystery around the practice of medicine. Honest and judicious publicity helps the honest physician and the public; a conspiracy of silence damages the honest physician and the public and plays direct into the hands of the charlatan and the quack.

We have cited the attempt to discipline Dr. John A. Wyeth, one of the leading physicians of America, because of a well-edited venture into the fields of publicity.

An operation that may revolutionize the oculist's field has been proved feasible and the tidings have been spread the world over. Had medieval ethics prevailed what would have happened? The news would first have gone to the medical journals, read only by a limited percentage of physicians. It would then have traveled the world-old route of word-of-mouth, gradually penetrating the ranks of the profession and after then sifting down to the laity. In a decade, perhaps, the world would have known the import of this operation.

Of what is that a justification? Of the witchcraft doctor's code of medical ethics, which sought to conceal all—or of the modern conception of careful and intelligent publicity?

The lawyer, the statesman, the business man, the college president, the preacher, the inventor—each one of the elements that go to make up our wonderful civilization, recognize and profit by that tremendous machine for disseminating knowledge, the press. One profession only—the supremely important profession whose mission it is to save life—stands pat on secrecy, and the tortuous, ineffectual methods of the middle centuries. We do not believe the average physician clings to this view. Those who do are simply worshipers of tradition.

The reputable press may be depended upon to co-operate with the reputable physician in the suppressing of the charlatan and the faker. No better assurance of this can be furnished than in the case of Friedman, the tuberculosis quack. Had it not been for the press and for its emphatic exposures Friedman and his associates would have been at this very time capitalizing human suffering in every state in the union. The press, however, in co-operation with the medical profession, put an end to his raid upon public credulity.

There is no more reason why reputable practitioners should hesitate to use the newspapers to spread the constantly developing virtues of the science of medicine than that they should seek the aid of the press in exposing the wiles of the medical faker.

On this point the medical profession itself is awakening. Right here in Atlanta The Constitution has received the assurances of reputable physicians that its crusade for the overthrow of medical medievalism is supported. It is too much to expect that the profession will as yet come out into the open and fight for progress and liberalism along the line of the intelligent use of publicity in the medical profession. But after a while the profession generally will come to the position of Dr. John A. Wyeth, of New York, who, in answering his critics on the absurd charge of having violated one of the far-fetched niceties of the code of medieval ethics, simply quoted Galileo—"The world moves all the same."

COUNCIL ACTS ON GRADY.

City council yesterday afternoon took the first definite step toward greater Grady hospital by referring the proposa' for a $750,000 bond issue to a special committee of ten, with instructions to report a detailed program at a special session of council to be held Wednesday. The action thus taken is equivalent to the indorsement of the proposal looking toward a bond issue for greater Grady.

Sentiment in council favored concentrating public sentiment on one subject at a time, the Grady hospital taking precedence now, the plaza enterprise to be considered later. The Constitution would have been glad had the plaza and the hospital projects been submitted to the people in the same election. Both are virtually self-sustaining, and both, the health element being conceded as primary, are of great importance.

Council in its wisdom has seen fit to separate the two and give the hospital movement right of way. That much is at least accomplished and it is to be hoped that once the new and greater Grady is assured council will lose no time in submitting the proposal for the plaza bonds.

The verdict of council will be the signal for starting a whirlwind campaign for the $750,000 bond issue for greater Grady.

The fact that every element in Atlanta is represented in the demand for enlargement of the institution warrants the success of the movement if it is undertaken in an organized way.

But organization is essential to success!

THE B'NAI B'RITH.

Distinguished and representative Jewish leaders of thought and action from the southern states are the guests of Atlanta in attendance at the fortieth convention of district grand lodge No. 5, Independent Order of B'nai B'rith.

The dominant note in the aims and practices of B'nai B'rith, as emphasized by many speakers at the various sessions, is the welding of altruistic ideals to practical work of uplift and benevolence. A concrete illustration of the organization's creed is found in the Hebrew Orphans' home in Atlanta, established under the auspices of B'nai B'rith, and now celebrating its quarter centenary. At the orphans' home, as in every other field of activity the association enters, idealism is the arch of the structure; but it is an idealism with trowel and mortar board in hand, addressing itself to actual achievement and not to empty preachment.

If one were asked for a judicial estimate of the spirit of Hebrew citizenship in Atlanta, as it long has expressed itself, the just answer would be that it comprises accurately the genius that is behind B'nai B'rith—idealism, lofty in conception, but tangible, workaday and fearless in practice.

The Jews of Atlanta do not confine their philanthropic energies to institutions within their own creed. They are liberal, even lavish, supporters of every deserving and constructive charity, under whatever emblem it makes an appeal. Since the era of reconstruction, which ushered in what might be termed the second and larger growth of the city, the Jew has been a conspicuous and an invaluable element in the work of development. He has been keen upon his private business, but no less keen upon the public welfare. He has entered unstintedly into every movement making for the general good. Campaigns of a civic nature show the names of Jews high on the roll of subscribers. Crusades for better government have enjoyed the benefit of counsel from Jewish leaders, and votes and influence from the rank and file. No single element has entered more spontaneously or unselfishly into the higher life of the community than has the Jew. He has identified himself with the expansion of the city and with the habits of enthusiasm and team work that have carried Atlanta's name to the four quarters of the country.

The men now here in the interests of B'nai B'rith symbolize the finest strain in this people of historic accomplishment and uniform good citizenship. In behalf of Atlanta The Constitution extends to them hearty greetings.

The best futures to buy are Atlanta futures.

Lack of Markets Keeps Farmers From Raising More Food Stuffs, Declares Demonstration Agent

R. L. Ballard, farm demonstration agent for Turner county, was a visitor Monday at the offices of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce in the Hurt building, coming to Atlanta to see President Haden, of the state chamber, with reference to the feasibility of establishing some kind of an organization to assist the farmers of Turner county in the marketing of their produce and the buying of their supplies.

According to Mr. Ballard, he is experiencing the greatest difficulty in persuading the farmers of Turner county to raise food products from the fact that even if they did increase their output of staples, lack of marketing facilities would make it practically impossible for them to dispose of the results of their labors at a profitable price.

"I have found it absolutely impossible," declared Mr. Ballard, "to convince the farmers of my county of the advantage of raising more food stuffs, pigs, chickens and eggs, when they cannot find a cash market even for what they raise now. All a Turner county farmer can get for eggs now is around 14 or 15 cents a dozen—and that in trade, not cash. The same is true in regard to corn and other food crops.

"One thing I am going to try to find out while I am in Atlanta is why it is that this city refuses to allow dressed hogs to be shipped here. Pigs for Atlanta must come in alive. So again when I approach the farmers of Turner about raising more hogs, I am met with the facer that if they did do so they would have no market for them after they had killed and dressed them ready for shipping.

"I will be in Atlanta for two days longer and am going to try to formulate some plan of a co-operative organization for the farmers of my county whereby they can get decent prices for their products—in cash and not in credit—and can also secure their supplies at reduced prices. There is certainly some plan by which this can be accomplished and I am going to keep at it until I work it out, or until I am convinced that it is impracticable. And the latter I do not believe, for what the farmers of Holland and other European countries have been able to do, I know the farmers of south Georgia—the garden spot of the world—can accomplish.

Don't Kill Mad Dog Suspect, Advises City Bacteriologist

Almost as soon as summer's hot breath routs Jack Frost from the earth, "mad dog!" is the exclamation that rises above the din of traffic on the crowded city pavements and drowns out the cooing of birds in country lanes.

About this time of the year Fido, Trixie and old dog Tray are in peril. If they escape the policeman's Colt the prospects are they will journey to the happy bone hunting grounds via the poisoned sausage flung over the back fence.

Yes, these are the days they call "dog days."

At almost any time of the day you can see the excited crowds gathered on street corners, the copper with menacing pistol and the cowering canine in the corner being made the target of a very bad example of marksmanship.

Dr. Claude Smith, city bacteriologist, in his laboratory up on the top floor of the city hall, has some interesting announcements to make in regard to the methods that should be followed after a person has been bitten by a dog supposed to be suffering from rabies.

Don't Kill the Dog.

"It is important to make most emphatic the precaution not to kill the dog," says Dr. Smith.

"No matter how hard it may be to catch him, or how dangerous it may seem, it is better that some trouble be gone to in locking up the animal than that the patient should go through the agonies of uncertainty which can never be definitely settled except by the lapse of time.

"If the dog is held it can soon be learned whether it is suffering from rabies, and if such be the case the discovery is never made too late for the proper treatment of the patient. As it is, a great deal of unnecessary trouble is caused by persons who rush off to a doctor, only waiting to see that the dog is killed."

Three Prevalent Ideas.

Dr. Smith says there are three things which are prevalent in the popular opinion in regard to mad dogs.

The first is that dogs go mad only during the hottest months of the year—dog days.

"Much has been done to set the public right on this point and many are informed on this phase of the matter," Dr. Smith says, "but some still persist in hanging to the idea.

"As a matter of fact, dogs go mad all during the year. Hot weather only has the effect of developing any malign bacteria that may be latent in the systems of animals.

"Another popular misconception is that the mad dog must always rave and foam at the mouth. Until he does, most people will refuse to believe that he is mad. In this they are wrong.

More Affectionate.

"Many dogs in the first stages of hydrophobia are more affectionate than ordinarily. Instead of tearing around the house, snapping at everything in sight and foaming at the mouth, they insist on being near some person.

"The most erroneous conclusion of all is that the dog must be killed at once as soon as it is thought that he is mad. If possible, the dog that is suspected of being mad after biting a person, should always be locked up and kept for a few days. This will give the disease, if there is any, time to develop. Search for the disease is usually made in the brain of the animal, and it must be given time to make its traces there before any definite decision can be reached in the matter. If this is done, it will take only a few days to find out whether the dog has had the rabies, and if it did, plenty of time is left for the treatment of the patient."

In order that the public may understand fully the precautions necessary, the city and state health boards and the Grady hospital Pasteur institute stand ready to assist. Hundreds of cases are treated annually at the Pasteur institute, and all that is asked is that the patients take the precautions which every physician will agree is necessary.

WHY WE PLEDGED EQUAL CANAL TOLLS TO ALL THE NATIONS

(The following correspondence to The Constitution from George J. Rawlins and the answer from Congressman W. C. Adamson, chairman of the committee on interstate and foreign committee of the house, explains succinctly why this country is bound to accord all nations equal treatment in the matter of Panama canal tolls.)

A Question.

Editor Constitution: Although agreeing fully with you and the administration on the Panama tolls question, allow me to ask a question.

Why did the Hay-Pauncefote treaty promise England equal tolls?

It is a concession on our part. What did England concede in return?

The treaty in question supersedes an older treaty dealing with the French company's canal, but, so far as I know, the press has not enlightened us on the conditions of the old treaty.

Kindly give us some information on that point, if possible.

GEORGE J. RAWLINS.
205 Peachtree Street, Atlanta, Ga.

The Constitution referred Mr. Rawlins' letter to Chairman W. C. Adamson, of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee, who framed the bill.

Mr. Adamson's reply, which follows, is self-explanatory.

Chairman Adamson's Answer.

I have your favor of March 25 with letter from Mr. Rawlins, which I answer with pleasure and return his letter herewith. Mr. Rawlins' trouble is a common one. He accepts the sophistry assumed by the ship trust that the Panama canal is an American waterway and that Great Britain is trying to run it. Great Britain does not now, and never did, feel any greater interest in it than any other maritime nation.

There have never been but two great international canals built under treaty by foreign capital in countries unable to build them. The United States had no more business in Central America in 1850 than England had, and the United States was afraid England would have more business there. For twenty-five years the claim started by Henry Clay and John Adams was persisted in by the United States, that any isthmian transit must be neutral in character and free and open in its use to all mankind. The Clayton-Bulwer treaty in 1850 provided that the United States and England, together with such other nations as might enter the compact, would back any private company that wanted to build the canal anywhere on the isthmus, each agreeing not to acquire any influence or interest on the isthmus by reason of the operation of the canal. By section 8 it is agreed that the management of such canal should treat the United States and England exactly alike as to charges and conditions, and while it imposes equal charges and conditions on the United States and England, the same should apply to all other nations, their citizens and subjects.

The Suez Canal.

It was found difficult to finance the enterprise and capital found a more inviting field in reviving the old Suez canal. The kedieve of Egypt cared nothing about the commercial aspects of the canal. He merely wanted the financial consideration for the concession, and the French company secured the concession from the kedieve of Egypt, by making him certain compensation, and making provisions similar to those we have made with the Republic of Panama, and the same conditions adopted in the Clayton-Bulwer treaty as to universal use and equal treatment were applied to the Suez canal.

At the beginning of this century the United States government determined that it wanted to build a canal and as it didn't own any land on the isthmus and didn't wish to enter upon conquest, and had already built the Panama railroad and operated it fifty years under the Clayton-Bulwer treaty and in strict accordance with it, our government applied to England for a modification of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, which was granted in the following particulars only:

The New Treaty.

It was agreed that the United States should build and manage and operate the canal, have all the rights incident to construction and ownership subject to the stipulations of the treaty affecting its use as to equality and neutrality. The United States relieved the balance of the world of its protection, and the prohibition of fortification was withdrawn. A provision was placed in the treaty that if we afterwards acquired sovereignty it should not change the terms of the treaty as to equality and neutrality. We have acquired substantial sovereignty by subsequent treaty with Panama and have built the canal and are now trying to repudiate the agreement made through England with the balance of the world. The three enterprises of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty with the Panama railroad, the Suez canal and the Panama canal are governed by substantially the same terms.

W. C. ADAMSON,
Chairman Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

Fit Your Job.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

A gentleman stepped to a Railway Ticket Office to purchase a ticket. It was for a Limited—the fastest and finest train passing through that station. "At what hour does this train arrive at S?" "I don't know," replied the agent. "Ask the Information Man. I have too much to do as it is keeping in my head the time at which trains arrive and leave."

That agent is a type of thousands of workers—too small for their jobs.

Comparatively, even the biggest sample of "Folks" is but a speck against the magnitude of the universe. And our little world is pretty small. But no man has even yet exhausted his ability and the world, so far, has been pretty big for the biggest. So, don't be afraid to—Fit your Job—no matter what it is. And when you feel you Fit fine—then get a bigger Job!

Love and Faith.

Morning.

Awaken, dear! The day is dawning;
Awaken, dear! The New Year's morning
Unrolls and spreads o'er seas and lands.
We'll journey life to loftier ways;
We'll journey life thro' ideal days;
For Love and Faith lock hearts and hands.

Noon.

Rest, dear! The noon-day lingers;
Rest, dear! Time's knalled fingers
Have not yet marred a loving thought.
We've shared our joys, albeit our fears;
We've shared the after-math of years;
For Love and Faith teach not the taught.

Night.

Sleep, dear! The day is ending;
Sleep, dear! The sunset's blending
In radiant paths and golden sheen.
We journeyed in the morning light;
We rested in the noon-day bright;
We'll dream with Love and Faith between.

DAILY GRIST from the STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

The retirement of Attorney General Thomas S. Felder to enter actively into his campaign for the Bacon term in the United States senate lent considerable increase to the political temperature of Georgia on Monday.

This action makes Mr. Felder's hat the first actively in the ring for the short-term race.

It throws open now the place of the attorney generalship for all comers.

To date Clifford Walker, of Monroe, is the only announced candidate. Whether or not Warren Grice, of Hawkinsville, the appointee, will be a candidate to succeed himself remains to be seen.

Statement From Walker.

Clifford Walker was in the city yesterday and, after hearing of the appointment of Mr. Grice, said:

"This by no means alters my plans for succeeding to the regular term as solicitor general. I do not know whether Mr. Grice will be a candidate for the full term or not. I hope he will not be. At any rate, my candidacy has already been pitched on a state-wide basis and my organization is under full headway in every county in the state. I expect to be elected by an overwhelming majority."

The action of Attorney General Felder in resigning confirms a recent emphatic statement of The Macon Evening News, which has especially pushed his candidacy for the senate. The News ridiculed the idea that Mr. Felder would be pushed out of the senatorial race.

The statement has been industriously circulated from Washington through friends of Congressman Hardwick that, at the proper time, Attorney General T. S. Felder would withdraw as a candidate for the unexpired term of the late United States Senator A. O. Bacon.

Advocates of Mr. Hardwick have never seriously credited the report that Mr. Felder would remain in the contest against Mr. Hardwick.

The Macon Evening News, which is leading the fight for Mr. Felder, bitterly resents this report, declaring:

"It's untrue. It's absurd. It's unfair.

"Mr. Felder has definitely and emphatically announced for the United States senate, and citizens in all sections of the state are enthusiastically responding to his candidacy.

"Tom Felder is Georgia's next junior senator."

This seems to put at rest the report that Mr. Felder can be pulled out of the race at any time that may satisfy the convenience of Mr. Hardwick and indications now point to the fact that he is in the contest to stay.

One of State's Ablest Attorneys.

Mr. Grice is a prominent attorney of Hawkinsville, and is popular and well known throughout the state. He is the son of Judge Washington L. Grice. He is now in the prime of life, being 38 years old, and is regarded as one of the ablest attorneys in the state.

Mr. Grice won his political spurs in the general assembly of 1900-01, when he was representative in the house from Pulaski county, and served on some of the most important committees of the assembly. He also represented Pulaski in the session of 1902-03.

Director of the Census William J. Harris, who is also chairman of the state democratic executive committee, arrived in Atlanta Monday, and will remain in Georgia until after the meeting of the executive committee next Saturday.

Private business matters will engage his attention during the early part of the week.

Director Harris is of the opinion that the administration will win out in the canal tolls fight.

POLITICAL SITUATION GROWING TENSE IN NORTHEAST GEORGIA

Toccoa, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—In the northeastern part of the state interest in politics is growing intense. The voters are apparently as much or more interested in the possibilities relative to the two places to be filled for United States senator than in local, circuit or congressional races.

Second to that is interest in the race for congress in the ninth district. Hon. John N. Holder, Hon. Thomas M. Bell and Dr. E. W. Watkins, it is stated, will be in the race, and the friends of Dr. L. G. Hardman say he will enter the race. Hon. W. A. Charters is also being urged to enter the contest again. Whether two, three, four or five of these gentlemen offer for election, lively politics is expected, and the fight will be a warm one.

In the primary of 1912 Mr. Bell received about 10,000 votes, Mr. Holder about 8,000, and Mr. Charters between 5,000 and 6,000. The friends of these gentlemen say that the vote of 1912 is no indication as to what will happen in 1914. In the last primary Mr. Bell got twenty-two of the forty county unit votes.

On account of the claim of each of the candidates and possible candidates, or the claims of their friends, and the uncertainty as to whether the state executive committee will adopt the county unit plan, the plurality plan or the majority plan, much interest is felt just at present. It is believed that almost immediately after the state committee meets on April 4 the race will settle down to a lively fight.

Hon. J. B. Jones, judge of the superior court for the northeastern circuit, it appears, will have no opposition. Hon. Robert McMillan, solicitor general, will be opposed by W. M. Johnson, a prominent lawyer of Gainesville, who is already making a vigorous campaign.

SPECIAL ELECTION IN TURNER TO ELECT COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Ashburn, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—R. L. Betts, chairman of the board of commissioners of roads and revenues of Turner county, has tendered his resignation as a member of that board, to take effect immediately. The reason assigned by Mr. Betts for resigning is because his interests in the lumber business in Florida will demand that he spend most of his time at Greenville, Fla.

Ordinary Joe Mac Hancock has fixed April 27 as the date on which a special election will be held to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Betts, and already several names have been mentioned as possible candidates for the place. The friends of Hon. W. A. Greer, Turner's first ordinary and one of the largest taxpayers of the county, are urging him to make the race. If he makes the race, it is probable that he will be chosen without opposition.

SENATOR WEST TELLS HIS HOME PEOPLE THAT IT IS UP TO THEM

Valdosta, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—United States Senator W. S. West is spending a few days at his home here. When asked as to his recommendation for postmaster at Valdosta, which it is understood both Senator West and Congressman Walker have found it rather difficult to make, he said that so far as he knew now, the postmastership in Valdosta would remain as it is. This is taken to mean that Senator West will not recommend a successor to Major J. O. Varnedoe, at least for the present, and that the latter will hold over after his term expires in May. It is understood that Colonel West, before his appointment as senator, was among those who recommended Major Varnedoe for reappointment.

The enforcement of the age limit of 70 years has been used against Major J. O. Varnedoe, the incumbent. J. F. Stapler and J. P. Coffee are the most active candidates.

Relative to his political intentions, Senator West stated that his candidacy for the term of Senator Bacon would depend on the sentiment and expressions from south Georgia. If it is made manifest that he can solidify south Georgia by running, he will do so, otherwise he will not.

He stated to friends here that he would make definite announcement of his intention before returning to Washington the latter part of next week.

SHERIFF'S RACE IN THOMAS COUNTY STEADILY GROWING MORE HEATED

Thomasville, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—The withdrawal from the race for sheriff of Ben Nazeworth, of this city, leaves only three in the running. These are Chief of Police A. B. Milton and W. A. Rheberg, of this city, and T. J. Hight, of Boston. All three of these have made their formal announcements as candidates and are hard at work.

As to which will win out is problematical, as all three have strong followings and nobody professes to be able to predict the outcome.

HOTTEST RACES IN THE HISTORY OF BULLOCH COUNTY NOW BEING RUN

Statesboro, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—With the Bulloch county primary a little over five weeks off Bulloch county's political interest centers in the race for sheriff and solicitor of the city court of Statesboro. For sheriff there are three candidates—John G. Jones, B. T. Mallard and W. H. DeLoach. For solicitor there are four candidates—J. J. E. Anderson, Homer C. Parker, Francis B. Hunter and H. M. Jones.

Some of the best posted politicians say these are the worst mixed races ever known in Bulloch county. The candidates spend very little time in Statesboro. They are out in the "sticks," seeing the voters. It is evident that they intend keeping up the fight until May 7, when the votes are cast.

FRIENDS OF JUDGE QUINCEY CONFERRING WITH EDMONDSON

Quitman, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—The Brooks county primary will be held April 23. With the single exception of the sheriff's office there will be no opposing candidates. The present sheriff, J. P. Wade, stands for re-election and is opposed by A. J. Conoly, who for many years served as sheriff of the county.

Since the retirement of Hon. Grover C. Edmondson from the congressional race in the eleventh congressional district, it is not definitely known what connection he will have with this year's local politics. Colonel Edmondson is very likely to advocate the candidacy of Judge J. W. Quincey, who will probably oppose Congressman Walker. Friends of the Douglas jurist have been here in close consultation with Colonel Edmondson, but no positive statement has been announced.

The contest in Brooks county as regards congressional politics will be between State Senator W. L. Converse, of Valdosta, and Judge Quincey, of Douglas, it being conceded that the incumbent cannot arouse much support in his behalf.

DEKALB COMMITTEE MAKES ASSESSMENTS ON CANDIDATES

Decatur, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—The DeKalb county democratic executive committee met Saturday at Decatur to perfect plans for the coming primary to be held May 13.

The committee decided that no candidate can enter and qualify for the primary after April 18 at noon.

The following assessments were made for entrants to the following offices: County commissioner, $25; treasurer, $40; tax collector, $30; tax receiver, $30; county clerk, $30; sheriff, $30; surveyor, $15.

DOUGLAS COUNTY PRIMARY TO TAKE PLACE ON THURSDAY

Douglasville, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—The white primary for nomination of county officers for Douglas county will be held next Thursday, April 2.

There are seven candidates for county treasurer, two for sheriff, two for tax receiver and seven for county commissioners, with three to be elected. G. S. King, the present tax collector, is the only officer unopposed, as he has held the office only one term.

The race for superior court judge of this circuit is creating a great deal of interest and, although the race is several months away, the people are discussing this as much as the race for county offices. Thus far no one has offered against Solicitor General Hutcheson.

JOHN SMITH.

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

John Smith is a dazzling illustration of what can be accomplished by energy and determination. Born of undistinguished parents and provided with two names so common that whenever any one called him, half of the country side rose up and said, "I'm coming," he set to work to give himself a great name. He did not do this by obtaining a title or by changing the spelling to "Smythe," either. He merely became so famous that when the name "John Smith" is mentioned in history today, not one person, however ignorant, stops to inquire "Which John?"

Smith was born in England in 1589 and was distinguished by his great faith in America. He believed that if the state of Virginia, which was at that time a wholly savage state, could be cultivated, it would produce tobacco, corn and presidents in vast numbers. Accordingly, he organized a colony, loaded it into three ships about the size of the Imperator's life boats and landed in Virginia in 1607.

The school books portray John Smith at this period as a stout man in a chilled steel vest and several bushels of beard. He looks like a venerable patriarch and it is a shock to discover that while engaged in defending his infant and worthless colony and in finding food for it as the mother bird finds worms for its yawping young, he was twenty-eight years old. For several years John Smith furnished all the brains and most of the labor and fighting for the colony—after which he gave it up as a bad job and went home.

While John Smith was engaged in exploring Virginia he was captured by the Indians and after they had held him a few weeks, they decided to beat in his head with a large stone as a gentle discouragement to future colonists. At this point, Pocahontas, the twelve-year-old daughter of the chief, threw herself upon Smith and declined to consent to the execution. This saved his life. Later when Pocahontas was visiting in London on her wedding trip, Smith read of the event in the society columns and hurrying around to the hotel, he had his deliverer presented at court to Queen Elizabeth. Thus Pocahontas was the first American girl to be presented at court. If John Smith lived today he would be smothered by the mobs of rich young American girls determined to save him at all hazards.

EDUCATIVE CAMPAIGN FOR BENEFIT OF FIFTH

Effort Will Be Made to Create Greater Interest Among Employers.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, held jointly with the military committee of the chamber and the Fifth regiment yesterday, it was resolved that a campaign be started to create greater interest among the employers of young men in the city joining the ranks of the Fifth regiment.

The action was taken following the investigation of reports that the enlistment of the Fifth regiment was decreasing due to the fact that employers of young men who largely compose the personnel of the regiment have made strenuous objections to their continuing members of the military organization and at the same time remaining in their employ.

The chamber of commerce holds the view that the Fifth regiment is essential for the interests of the city of Atlanta and will push the fight in its interest.

The military committee of the chamber will meet Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with the committee of the Fifth regiment, and further investigation will be made.

The resolutions adopted Monday by the chamber of commerce are, in part, as follows:

"That all members of the chamber of commerce and all other citizens are hereby requested to co-operate with the officers of the national guard in their efforts to induce young men to enlist and to dignify the service.

"That all members of the chamber of commerce and other citizens are requested to take such action, either directly by the individual employing young men or through their various boards of directors, by appropriate resolutions, that such members and employers are in hearty sympathy with the officers of the national guard and will encourage their employees to enlist and will permit them to be absent from their work upon strictly military duty not exceeding twelve days in each year, without loss of pay or detriment to their positions or advancement in said employment.

"That the newspapers of this city be requested to publish these resolutions and to conduct a campaign among the employers of the city to promote the co-operation of the employers with the officers of the national guard.

LEWIS SEES WORLD AGAINST UNCLE SAM

bater—I need not say where this happened—who sent a challenge down into a county very hostile to him to debate. The people down there did not like the job very much, but they put up the man they liked best, and who is generally put up on such occasions—a great, big, husky fellow, whom they all called Tom. The challenger was given the first hour of the two hours allotted to the debate, and he hadn't got more than half way through his speech when it became evident that he was convincing the audience, when one of Tom's partisans in the back of the room cried out: 'Tom, Tom, call him a liar and make it a fight.' That is the stage this thing has reached."

The president's auditors asked him if he was going to fight, and he smilingly answered that he did not need to.

With the final vote on the Sims repeal bill in the house scheduled for late tomorrow, interest in the controversy revived, the closing speech of Speaker Clark in opposition to the repeal serving as the chief objective point of anticipation. Little doubt as to the result of the vote on the bill is entertained by any one, the majority for the repeal being variously estimated at from 30 to 75 votes.

All ears will be strained for the speaker tomorrow and there is much speculation as to the course his attack on the bill will take. His friends do not expect him to attack the president. Some democrats believe that he will not refrain, however, from allusions to political entanglements.

"Ham" Lewis Sees Peril to Country.

Discussion of the issue in the senate today was enlivened by Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, who pleaded for the president's cause, urging, however, a compromise giving the president authority to suspend tolls. Thus he proposed to find "some intermediate channel between what appears to be Scylla upon the one side and Charybdis upon the other and to prevent the party craft from striking on either promontory, either to be wounded or disrupted."

Senator Lewis aroused mingled astonishment and curiosity among his colleagues by discussing the foreign relations of the United States and explaining what he thought the president might have referred to in his message on the tolls issue asking congress to grant the repeal. He drew a vivid picture of dire things that would happen should the United States intervene in Mexico.

Referring to the president's failure to specify what foreign relations prompted him to appeal for tolls exemption repeal, the senator did not hesitate to give "what I feel may have been his reasons." He then entered upon a recital of acts of aggression on the part of the United States, beginning with the taking of the Philippines.

"You entered in the Philippines into a system of colonial government," said the senator. "Hardly had you come into office, scarcely were you seated until you met the problem. The cry was: 'You have come into the Orient and brought your people and we desire that our people shall now come into yours.' We cannot consent to that.

"Paralysis has set upon us? Upon us as to the negotiations of the treaty with Japan respecting exclusion, and hesitant, indeed, is the movement respecting the matter of immigration."

All World Against U. S.

Taking up the Mexican situation and reviewing the operations of the United States in other lands and the interests in Mexico of England, France, Japan and other nations, Senator Lewis dramatically declared:

"The very first moment we move down into Mexico with a view of executing the Monroe doctrine against these foreign nations who have stationed themselves there upon the theory that we no longer had a right to execute the doctrine because of our past folly, Japan promptly would seize the Philippine islands. She would then seize Hawaii, and then in such conditions—our armies in Mexico, the canal not finished, no way to have a joinder of our navy—in what condition would our country be?

"Russia, with her grievances, she who sent aid to the union at a time when it was threatened, feels that because of English influence the administration in power the last ten years lent its aid to Japan against her. Russia, remembering this wrong, now in an offensive and defensive alliance of life and death with Japan, would not lose her opportunity. Russia, with her grievance—now so great she has no treaty with the United States of either companionship or amity—promptly would aid in seizing Alaska and the north near her.

"The north and the south, now united, would sail to the North sea to protect Alaska and to the Orient to protect the Philippines. The army would be divided, one part in Mexico and the other part moving to our possessions to protect them. England, feeling under those conditions no friendliness to us (we would not seek her help on the north without friendship), and South America, already imbued with a feeling that, when under the administration of Colonel Roosevelt, we performed a Caesarian operation on Colombia and excised from her the government of Panama, only waits that it may duplicate the performance upon one equally defenseless on the south near to the canal zone; furnishing supplies to the enemy and supporting the assault. In what a splendid condition we would stand. Sad, indeed, it is to contemplate."

Senator Lewis appealed to congress to trust the president, "hoping that, we may return to the doctrine of a true party."

House Galleries Crowded.

Again today in the house a crowded floor and galleries thronged to a point which broke all records of attendance listened to the arguments on the issue. The president was attacked and defended by vigorous orators. The campaign policy of the administration was derided and commended. The economic policy of granting American vessels free tolls was alternately supported and condemned.

Attacks on the president brought Representative Walsh, of New Jersey, to his feet with a ringing defense. The democrats cheered his tribute to President Wilson vigorously.

Throughout the day men and women sat for hours in the crowded galleries without intermission even for luncheon. Crowds that could not jam their way into the galleries waited impatiently in the corridors for an opportunity to hear the debate on the most important legislative position before the congress in a decade.

The importance of the occasion was impressed on the spectators when shortly after the house met Representative Clyde Ellis, of Florida, a sufferer from rheumatism, was wheeled into the house in an invalid's chair, and from the chair made a speech opposing the repeal.

During the day Miss Eleanor Wilson, the president's daughter, and several white house guests, took places in the executive gallery of the house and listened to the debate for a time.

Ship Lobby Is Charged.

In the senate Senator Owen read into the record a plank of the Baltimore platform denouncing ship subsidy. This, he said, was a flat contradiction of the plank favoring exemption in the Panama canal, and was the expression of democratic doctrine for many years. He insisted that agents of the coastwise steamship companies "had busied themselves arousing public sentiment and bringing to bear pressure" to get the exemption plank into the platform, though not a state convention of any party had favored it.

"Now they would like to delay this matter," he added, "until they can get up this artificial sentiment."

Senator Owen declared he favored repeal of the navigation laws giving American owned and manned ships a coastwise trade monopoly. Under these laws, he declared, the companies had so divided the traffic among themselves that they extorted improper rates from the shippers.

Senator Bristow and Senator Fall declared that railroad domination of coastwise shipping through arrangement with the Pearson syndicate, controlling the Tehuantepec railroad, had created a condition of monopoly in coastwise traffic. The exemption provision of the canal act was aimed at this monopoly, Senator Bristow insisted.

In the house, Representative Gardner discussed at length the conditions surrounding the negotiations of the Clayton-Bulwer and Hay-Pauncefote treaties, and reached the conclusion that "there was no thought in men's minds in 1900 and 1901 that the United States was exempt from charging the same canal tolls to American vessels that she charged to vessels of the rest of the world."

Edwards Against Free Tolls.

Representative Edwards, of Georgia, argued that the exemption of American vessels meant only "an indirect subsidy to the shipping trust," and declared that the question was not between "the American eagle and the British lion, but between the American eagle and that web-footed bird, the shipping trust."

Free tolls was denounced as a "species of favoritism and a discrimination against American seamen in the foreign trade on the high seas," by Representative MacKenzie, of Illinois.

"If I have a consciousness that I am serving my countrymen and honoring my flag in opposing the claim of this gigantic monopoly," he said, "I shall not be driven from a position I believe to be right by the taunts of those who say we fear the foreigner, nor will I submit to either the pleadings or the dictation of a monopoly."

Representative Bailey, of Pennsylvania, declared that the free tolls plank of the Baltimore platform was repugnant to the traditions of democracy, and urged that it be repudiated. He declared that free tolls was but a "thinly-disguised subsidy to the shipping trust."

Representatives Bartholdt of Missouri, republican, and Cline of Indiana, Seldomridge of Colorado, Gudger and Small of North Carolina, and Goeke of Ohio, democrats, spoke for the repeal, and Representative Hayes, of California, opposed it.

Representative Lenroot, of Wisconsin, republican, saying he would vote for the bill, expressed regret at the manner in which the matter had been presented to congress by the president.

Representative Knowland issued a statement tonight declaring that if President Wilson had read his speech instead of some of the newspaper headlines he would have known that he charged no trade or deal. He said he merely called attention to facts concerning the visits of British representatives to Washington, and asked whether the Panama canal was the price of the elimination of Huerta.

MISS CELESTE PARRISH WANTED AS SURVEYOR

Her Services Are Requested by Superintendent of the Augusta Schools.

The proposed survey of the public school system of Atlanta has already had its influence through the state, and city council in several of Georgia's larger cities have written letters of inquiry to Atlanta pertaining to the services of an expert. M. L. Brittain, superintendent of the state department of education, has had many requests made of him, several of these asking for the services of Miss Celeste Parrish, now one of the assistants in the department of education. Lawton B. Evans, superintendent of the public schools of Augusta, in asking for the services of Miss Parrish, writes

"Hon. M. L. Brittain, Atlanta, Ga.

"My Dear Mr. Brittain: I see by the papers that Atlanta is somewhat disturbed on the question of efficiency and is asking you for a state expert to examine into their system.

"It is a fine idea, and I want to file a similar request for the Augusta schools. I want Miss Parrish, and I want her for two weeks if I can get her. Miss Parrish can do us a world of good here and I am very anxious to know where our schools stand in her estimation. We are not as big as Atlanta, it is true, but we would like to enjoy the same privileges. If you will say the word, we will make arrangements with Miss Parrish to come and visit us.

"Yours truly,

"LAWTON B. EVANS."

$14,000 IS GIVEN TO ORPHANS' HOME

In the pantomime the orphanage children appeared as flowers, which a child representing winter put to sleep. Spring, in the form of a fairy, came and awakened the little sleeping flowers. The rendition of the none too easy playlet was warmly welcomed.

The fortieth annual convention of the southern district, No. 5, Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, was formally opened on Monday morning in the hall of the Hebrew Orphans' home, on Washington street.

Rabbi E. N. Calisch made the opening prayer. About sixty delegates and members of the organization were present when the session was called to order. Five southern states were represented in the gathering—Georgia, North and South Carolina, Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia—having sent delegates to attend the meeting.

Leonard Haas, past president of the district organization, welcomed the delegates on behalf of the organization, while Mayor Woodward welcomed the visitors on the part of the city.

Recount Forward Strides.

Lionel Weil, in presenting the annual message to the grand lodge, recounted the great forward strides taken by Jewish citizens of the United States during the past five years. President Weil cited the organization of the Anti-Defamation league, to eradicate the defamation of the Jewish race in the theaters, movies and newspapers; the opposition of Simon Wolf, representing the B'nai B'rith to the Burnett bill, now before congress, with its effort to regulate immigration by the so-called "literacy test," and the progress made among the Jewish people in the matter of enlightening them as to the real work of the B'nai B'rith.

Luncheon was served the delegates in the hall of the Orphans' home at noon by ladies connected with the official board of the institution.

At the late afternoon session, beginning at 3 o'clock, the intimate affairs of the organization were taken up. The delegates reported much progress in the various branch organizations.

GRICE IS APPOINTED ATTORNEY GENERAL

king." Of this union five children were born.

From 1900 to 1904, both inclusive, Mr. Grice represented Pulaski county in the lower branch of the general assembly. He served upon the general judiciary committee during the entire service, and was then noted for his ability as a lawyer and his close application to all legislative work in which he was engaged. For two years Mr. Grice was a lieutenant, and thereafter for six years a captain in the Georgia state troops.

As a lawyer Mr. Grice is best known. From his admission to the bar, where he is recognized as a leader, he has been in partnership with his father at Hawkinsville. For many years, and even while quite young, Mr. Grice has practiced regularly in the counties composing the Oconee circuit, in all of which he had a large clientele. He has also appeared frequently before the court of many of the counties in his section of the state.

His practice has been general and his services as a lawyer in great demand.

Mr. Grice is a lawyer descended from lawyers on both sides. His father, Judge W. L. Grice, still in active practice, though past eighty years of age, was judge of the superior court of the Macon circuit. Judge Grice is well known as a lawyer and as the commander of the Forty-fifth Georgia regiment of infantry. His mother's father was General Eli Warren, of Perry, and probably no lawyer of the generation gone was more widely known or more generally successful.

His great uncles, Judge Lott Warren, of Albany, and Judge Peter C. Love, of Thomasville, both served upon the superior court bench and were members of congress. His near relatives, Judge P. B. D. Warren, of Albany, and Judge J. J. Scarborough, of Americus, were also superior court judges. Mr. Grice is also related to many other lawyers of prominence—Judge Andrew J. Cobb, an ex-supreme court judge, and Judge Joseph R. Lamar, of the supreme bench of the United States; Charles J. Jordan, of Americus; the late Walter J. Grace, of Macon; Judge James Bishop, of Eastman; Judge J. G. Park, of Dawson, and J. W. Harris, of Cuthbert.

Mr. Grice has announced his intention of offering to succeed himself. His numerous friends are delighted over the appointment, and he is the recipient of many congratulations.

WEEKLY PRESS EDITORS TO MEET HERE SATURDAY

Franklin, Ga., March 30.—(Special.) President P. T. McCutcheon, of the Georgia Weekly Press association, has issued a call for a meeting of the officers and executive committee of the association at the offices of Commissioner of Commerce and Labor Stanley, in Atlanta, at 9:30 a. m., on Saturday, April 4. A question of vital importance to every editor in Georgia is to be discussed at this meeting, and plans of aggressive campaign devised.

At this meeting definite and final arrangements for the July meeting at Commerce and the outing to follow will be made. Not only the officers in question, but all editors interested, are invited to attend.

Rabun Gap Boys Win Laurels As Banner Cattle Raisers

The boys of the Rabun Gap Industrial school, of Rabun Gap, have proved themselves the banner cattle raisers of the state, in a recent sale they made to the Atlanta market. The greater number of a shipping of 126 steers were raised by the boys of the school, the rest by farmers in that vicinity, and all were fed and fattened on corn raised at the school.

The cattle was bought by J. T. Elder, of Atlanta, for $8,500. They averaged 950 pounds each, and were consigned to Shippey Bros. & White, who sold them to local dealers.

This one incident of the noted mountain school in north Georgia not only proves the value of the school as meeting the needs of the youth of the mountains, but proves that cattle can be successfully raised, fed and marketed in Georgia.

The boys of the school, during work hours, put the food in the silos, which they build themselves. The food is known as ensilage, and is fed the cattle in a half green stage according to the most modern method of cattle raising.

Andrew J. Ritchie, the founder and principal of the school, has paid particular attention to this branch of the school training, and he hopes, through the ability of the boys, not only to make the institution self-sustaining, and to prove cattle raising a factorship in state prosperity, but to enlarge the school to meet the demands of the mountain boy.

4 NEGROES SAW WAY FROM PRESTON JAIL; DOGS PUT ON TRAIL

Preston, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—A bold jail delivery occurred about 3 o'clock this afternoon. Four negro prisoners sawed out of their upper cells into a lower corridor, and, finding a bar of iron, broke a hole through the brick wall large enough for them to crawl through. They then went boldly through the street of the square north of the courthouse and disappeared in a westerly direction.

The sheriff phoned for help and bloodhounds from Stewart county. Thus far no arrests have been made.

German Aviator Killed.

Strassberg, Germany, March 30.—Captain Rienhardt was killed today in an aeroplane accident. He was a passenger on a biplane which, when the pilot tried to avoid a collision with a monoplane, capsized and fell 65 feet.

$750,000 BONDS ASKED FOR GREATER HOSPITAL

be granted. He asked council to vote unanimously for the project.

Changes Necessary.

The ordinance was drawn required several technical changes in the phraseology, which were made by City Attorney James L. Mayson. One change was the insertion of a clause authorizing that a certain part of the bond money be used for the purchase of land for hospital buildings.

Alderman Nutting afterwards called council's attention to the fact that the ordinance did not include that part of the bonds be issued in small denominations as suggested by Mayor Woodward, and he asked permission to have that provision inserted. City Attorney Mayson said that the ordinance would have to be drafted over, and explained that it would take some time to correct it. Members were in favor of adjourning until Tuesday afternoon so that no time be lost, but it was decided that the body could adjourn until Wednesday and that there would still be enough time left to advertise for the election as required by law.

Stirring speeches on behalf of Grady were heard from Colonel Robert J. Lowry, Bishop C. K. Nelson, Wilmer L. Moore, Dr. George Noble and Dr. Martin. They all pointed to the urgent need of hospital improvements, and declared that with the money derived from the sale of bonds Grady can be improved to compare favorably with Johns Hopkins hospital, of Baltimore, recognized as the finest in the south.

CARROLLTON FORMING CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Carrollton, Ga., March 30.—(Special.) The citizens of Carrollton have just held a meeting for the purpose of organizing a permanent chamber of commerce. J. A. Mandeville, Ralph Meeks, A. K. Snead, L. K. Smith and R. F. Hyatt were appointed as a committee to draft a constitution and by-laws, and to act and recommend a permanent organization.

A canvass has been made, and it is found that the business men are highly in favor of the movement, and 165 members have already been obtained. If a chamber of commerce is organized, it will be known as the Carrollton Chamber of Commerce, and will affiliate with the Georgia Chamber of Commerce.

SAVANNAH INVITATION DECLINED BY WILSON

Savannah, Ga., March 30.—Efforts to obtain the attendance of President Wilson at the National Drainage Congress here, April 22 to 25, have finally failed, according to information received here tonight from Washington. Vice President Marshall may attend. Secretary Lane, of the interior department, will make one of the chief addresses at the congress.

branes. Their mucous linings lose tone, secrete unhealthy lubricants, and these affect all the rest of the body.

The way to overcome catarrh is to get your blood full of active, red corpuscles. And this you can do by taking S. S. S., the famous Georgian remedy, that all the civilized world recognizes.

S. S. S. is taken into the blood, spreads its influence over every organ in the body, through all the veins and arteries, enables all mucous surfaces to exchange inflammatory acids and other irritating substances for arterial elements that effectually cleanse the system and thus put an end to all catarral pollution. S. S. S. cleans out the stomach of mucous accumulations, enables only pure, blood-making materials to enter the intestines, combines with these food elements to enter the circulation, and in less than an hour is at work throughout the body in the process of purification.

You will soon realize its wonderful influence by the absence of headache, a decided clearing of the air passages, a steadily improved nasal condition, and a sense of bodily relief that proves how completely catarrh often infests the entire system. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. For special advice on any blood disease write in confidence to The Swift Specific Co. G-13, Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Help Rural Women Is Purpose Of Mrs. Marie Bankhead-Owen

Mrs. Thomas J. Owen, of Montgomery, Ala. (Marie Bankhead-Owen), the well-known writer, is in the city, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Henry M. Beakhead, of Fort McPherson. She is en route home from a visit north, having visited in Washington her parents, Senator and Mrs. Bankhead. She was among the prominent southern women who attended the recent conferences held by the National Civic Federation in New York, these conferences attended by both men and women, and the program dealing with problems of vital national import.

Mrs. Owen was the first president of the woman's auxiliary of the Southern Sociological Congress, which held in Mobile in the fall, and the program arranged by her, which brought together women representative of every activity in which the south is engaged to discuss the southern woman's problems, was one of the brilliant features of the convention.

When asked during a visit to The Constitution office yesterday what her observations were pertaining to the work of the women of the south in their part of the south's upbuilding and prosperity, she replied:

"Three things particularly impressed me: Their spirit of organization; their earnestness of purpose, and their power in every movement in which they are a part.'

"But, seeing the wonderful influence of these women, I realized that there should be an extension of it—to the women not yet reached by the spirit of organization, the rural women.

"I know a great deal of effort has been directed toward rural organization and rural development, but I wish to see something done that will reach right into the rural home, and teach the women there how to make the best of what they have got; teach them to put what they have and do not consume on the market, and at a profit. The rural school is being reached with correspondence courses; with the traveling library; with the neighborhood club, but I want the more commercial message; the message more directed toward the conservation of things in the home to reach the southern rural woman," continued Mrs. Owen.

She here referred to the interesting fact that at the forthcoming conference for education in the south to meet in Louisville, Ky., April 7, which she will attend, special sessions will be devoted to the interest of the country home. Among the speakers at one of the sessions will be W. A. Etherton, farm architect of the department of agriculture, at Washington.

Mrs. Owen further stated that there would be a conference of country women, presided over by Mrs. B. B. Munford, of Richmond, Va. At this conference every phase of practical country life will be developed.

Mrs. Foster's Tea.

Mrs. Frank O. Foster entertained at a 5 o'clock tea yesterday afternoon at her home on Eleventh street in compliment to Mrs. Max F. Howland, of Boston, who is visiting Mrs. Logan Bleckley.

A profusion of spring flowers, in artistic arrangement, beautifully decorated the apartments. In the center of the tea table was a silver bowl filled with daffodils, hyacinths and jonquils, and all other details of the pretty table were in yellow and white. Mrs. Blair Foster poured tea.

Mrs. Howland wore a gown of black taffeta, the coat opening over a blouse of yellow chiffon, and her hat was black.

The guests included twenty-five friends of Mrs. Howland's.

Class Reception.

The members of the junior class of Washington seminary will entertain at a reception Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Frances Winship on Peachtree street, from 5 to 7 o'clock in compliment to the senior class.

There will be about one hundred guests.

Mrs. Lyle and Mrs. Howard Cornelius chaperoned the young people.

The Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., will have charge of the cabaret at the Piedmont hotel tonight from 10 to 12 o'clock.

Many who attend the performance at the Grand of "The Genius" will entertain parties of friends afterwards at the cabaret. General Joseph Van Holt Nash and a number of Georgia colonels and the members of the governor's staff will also attend. Colonel Walter Andrews, grand exalted ruler of Atlanta, Elks, will be present to receive all Elks.

Many tables have already been engaged, and the occasion promises to be a delightful one.

For Miss Green.

Miss Mary King entertained Saturday afternoon, at her home, in compliment to Miss Ora Green, a bride-elect.

Palms and ferns with vases of flowers decorated the house. In a guessing contest, the prizes were won by Miss Pearl Lacy and Mrs. G. H. Lippman.

A feature of the afternoon was the miscellaneous shower, when many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the honor guest.

Miss King wore brown crepe de chine, and was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. King, and Mrs. Amner Spencey. Miss Mattie Witham served punch. There were forty guests.

Miss Clara Reetts will entertain Saturday, and Mrs. George Lippman gives a linen shower, and Miss Louise Rice will be among those entertaining Miss Green.

NO WONDER SHE IS GLAD

Only a Short Time Ago Was Unable to Stand and Out of Heart; Now Walks Two Miles Easily.

Rosedale, Okla.—"I am almost unable to describe what used to be my suffering," says Mrs. Beckey Barrett, of this town. "I suffered so for over two years, with womanly troubles, and had such pains, that I was unable to stand on my feet.

It seemed that I could not be helped, and thought my only chance was an operation.

I took different medicines, but found no relief, and I got out of heart.

At last, I commenced to use Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I am glad to say that I am very much better. I have taken five bottles of Cardui, and I can do my work all right—all my housework—and can walk two miles at a time, easily.

I feel like a new woman. I will always recommend Cardui to all sick and suffering women, for I know that Cardui saved my life."

Cardui has proven itself to be an ideal tonic for women.

It is composed entirely of harmless, vegetable ingredients, which act specifically on the weakened womanly organs, helping to strengthen the muscles and nerves, and to build them up to health. Cardui has been in successful use for more than half a century. Give Cardui a trial. No doubt it's the very medicine you need.

ELKS' CHARITY BENEFIT AT THE GRAND TONIGHT

Brazilian Maxixe Will Be Given as Curtain Raiser to "The Genius."

The Elks' charity performance of "The Genius" by the Players' Club of Atlanta will be presented at the Grand opera house tonight.

In addition to the play, the Elks will offer another brilliant attraction tonight.

This will be a curtain-raiser by Guy Murray and Miss Katherine Wheaton, who will present the Brazilian maxixe, than which there is no more graceful and entertaining modern dance. Mr. Murray and Miss Wheaton are already popular in Atlanta.

Tonight's performance of "The Genius" is a great improvement on the excellent first production by the Players' club, which took place so successfully on Shrove Tuesday night.

There are several interesting and important changes in the personnel of the cast, including the appearance of Mrs. W. C. Jarnagin and Lamar Hill in important roles.

Seats are on sale at the Grand opera house at the prices each of $1, 75 cents and 50 cents.

After the performance, the Players and Past Exalted Ruler Walter Andrews will be the guests of Exalted Ruler Al Dunn, at the Elks' home.

This class goes on record as being one of the two largest to receive the Master Mason degree in the history of the state. Both record classes were composed of members of the Gate City lodge, No. 2.

Receiver Appointed For Power Company In Paulding County

Harold Hirsch and James D. Robinson, receivers for the Guarantee Bank and Trust company, on Monday filed a petition asking for a receiver for the Paulding County Power company, located at Dallas, Ga. This company was one in which the Guarantee Bank and Trust company was heavily interested at the time it failed. The court named Stephen Tighe, of Dallas, as receiver, under a bond of $2,000. The petition declares that in the naming of a receiver the affairs of the power company will be conserved and the directors of the company much benefited.

STREET CAR COMPANY FIGHTS BARKER SUIT

Taking of testimony in the suit of Mrs. Charles D. Barker against the Georgia Railway and Power company, in which Mrs. Barker alleges that her husband died from injuries received after being struck by a street car in Whitehall street, started in the city court on Monday. The street car company's attorneys allege that Barker died from natural causes instead of the result of being hit by the street car. Barker was injured in November, 1912, and died in June, 1913.

SECOND INDUSTRIAL TOUR OF ATLANTA IS PLANNED

Plans for the second industrial tour of the city of Atlanta and suburbs will be considered this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the chamber of commerce at a called meeting of the industrial and statistical bureau executive committee, of which Wilmer L. Moore, former president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, is chairman. It is probable that the committee will set an early date.

LAWSUIT RESULTS WHEN RIVER CHANGES ITS BED

Brunswick, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—The Georgia supreme court is going to be called upon to decide a novel question which has been before Judge Conyers, of the superior court, in its various forms. The question is one which, it is believed, has never been up in Georgia and the final decision of the high tribunal will be awaited with interest.

The issue is between Wayne and Tattnall county people and is for the possession of 220 acres of land. In 1824 this land was in Wayne county and was granted to people of that county. The Altamaha river is the dividing line between the two counties. In 1824 this river had changed its course, a little slew breaking in and finally becoming the main channel of the river. Then the land in question was in Tattnall county and was granted to people in that county under the old Georgia headright law. Recently R. E. Warren and J. H. Reddish began cutting hardwood timber on the land and they were restrained by the Sizer Lumber company, of Tattnall county, holders of the more recent lease. A temporary restraining order was granted, but when the question came up before Judge Conyers in this city the injunction was dissolved, but the matter was left in status quo when a supercedeas was filed, carrying the case to the supreme court.

Swift & Company's sales of Fresh Beef in Atlanta for the week ending Saturday, March 28, averaged 11.28 cents per pound.—(adv.)

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN CRIED

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. P. W. LANSENG, Route No. 1, Florence, South Dakota.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Clean Up, Then Plant

We have the fullest sympathy with the "cleaning up" idea for the visiting Shriners, that they may take back to their homes the idea of a clean and attractive Atlanta.

While cleaning up, why not break up the soil, plant flowers and grass in the front, and the money-saving vegetable garden in the back?

"An Atlanta Beautiful"

with fine lawns, attractive flower beds and porch boxes full of ferns and decorative plants, will create a favorable impression that nothing else can.

What's better is that it's not only for Shriners' week, but all through the summer and fall it will please and satisfy all.

It Depends On You

An "Atlanta Beautiful" depends on each individual householder doing his or her share. Each one is responsible for their share.

Will you do your share? The right time is now, with this superb growing weather. We have everything you need in seeds, plants, etc.

Come and see us or phone your order in. Phones: Bell Main 3962, Main 2568; Atlanta Phone 2568. Delivery twice daily to all parts of the city of Atlanta.

Sold at 12.51, or 28 Points Above Saturday's Close. Covering and Bull Support the Factors.

New York, March 30.—Cotton was more or less excited today, with old crop positions making new high ground for the movement, on renewed covering or bull support. May contracts led the advance, selling at 12.51, or 28 points above Saturday's close and 35 points above July. Realizing caused moderate reactions in the late trading, but the close was steady and from 1 to 30 points net higher.

Relatively firm cables, favorable foreign trade accounts and bullish over-Sunday advices from southern spot markets were considered chiefly responsible for the opening advance of from 4 to 12 points. Leading spot interests sold enough March to supply a scattering demand at the prevailing premium over May, but bought May against these sales, and there was also an active demand for May from foreign and local sources. Profit-taking checked the advance from time to time and caused slight recessions, but offerings failed to increase materially on the setbacks, which seemed to increase the nervousness of the May shorts.

At any rate, the general tendency of the market was upward, until in the afternoon active old crop positions sold about 14 to 28 points net higher. Later deliveries were relatively quiet, but ruled steady with the old crop strength and on apprehensions that unsettled weather predicted for the belt might cause further delays in farm work.

October and December contracts sold some 5 to 6 points net higher, but reacted with the rest of the list in late trading.

Private cables reported that India was an active buyer of cotton goods in Manchester, and that prices of both yarns and cloths were advancing. The continent was, also, said to have been a good buyer of new crop months in Liverpool this morning, and mail advices claim that foreign spinners have buying orders in the English market for delivery in 1916 and 1917 at 5.80d and below.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, March 30.—Continued unsettled weather over the cotton region, nervousness of May shorts and reports of a large business in Manchester were bullish features that sustained the cotton market today. The May option led in the advance and at the highest stood 15 points up. The other active months at the highest were 8 to 14 points up. The close was 5 to 12 up on a steady tone.

The weather forecast promised little change in conditions. Telegrams from Texas, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana points reported that farm work was being delayed by too much rain. Buyers found offerings scanty, and May shorts who wanted to cover bid prices up on themselves. Large acreage talk offset, to some extent, the effect of weather news on the new crop months.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, March 30.—A sharp decline for May at the opening advanced that position materially and a further one stimulated its prices beyond the expectations of those who had undermeasured the short interest. New crops failed to improve equally, although the weather conditions are not wholly favorable and there is a disposition to buy them on any recession. The earlier deliveries are affected by "technical" conditions. Later on, prices declined somewhat, but the absence of general business leaves the market at the temporary caprice of the local interests and subject to the temporary demand and supply. On the advance, southern selling and profit-taking were in evidence and the pressure exceeded the resistance. It is too early for the weather to be a potent factor. Owing to the situation south no increase in stock here is expected. The market closed steady with a fair demand at the slight decline.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, March 30.—It looks as if the Smith bill, which seems likely to become a law, is going to help the price of cotton. The May shorts made a wild run for it today and May closed at an advance of twenty-three points. July was up nine and new crop months only one or two points. New crop positions are being neglected but this will not be long. It is not a market to be short of. A late spring in the belt would mean very high prices.

Encouraged by a report that Brazil has been able to borrow money from the Rothschilds, the coffee bulls pushed that market up 16 points today, after it had opened lower on disappointing cables. The bull movement in this market is all manipulation. The trade is not buying and the movement continues heavy.

Dry Goods.

New York, March 30.—Cotton goods markets were firmer for the day with buying of convertibles more active. Raw silk was irregular. Reports have reached the market of low offerings of dress fabrics in western markets.

MOISTURE CAUSED WHEAT TO DECLINE

Market Closed at Prices One to One and Three-Eighths Cents Off—Corn and Oats Off.

Chicago, March 30.—Abundant moisture, which extended from the Alleghenies almost to the Rockies and gave sanction to estimates of the largest winter crop ever known, had a notably bearish influence today on wheat. In consequence, the market, after an unceasing decline, finished weak at a loss of 1@1¼ to 11-4@1⅜c net. Other speculative articles, too, all showed a setback—corn ⅝ to ½@⅝c; oats 1-4 to ⅜@½, and provisions 15@17½ to 25c.

Selling pressure on the new crop deliveries of wheat became so pronounced as to disturb seriously the confidence of holders of cash wheat and May. The bountiful rains of the last three days had widened to include even the dry portions of Kansas, where complaints had been numerous. In addition, one of the leading experts had gone on record as predicting a winter crop yield of more than 600,000,000 bushels this season, as compared with 523,000,000 bushels last year, the biggest previous record.

Leading houses that heretofore have not been identified with the bear side in wheat came out openly on today's break. Much stress was laid on advices tending to show that there had been virtually no acreage loss from winter killing, and that the seeded territory possessed an amplitude never before equalled.

Corn succumbed with wheat and because of lack of demand for 12,000,000 bushels stock here, a large part is winter shelled and is liable to deteriorate. Most of the selling came from bear speculators who showed increasing courage.

Oats felt the influence of continued free arrivals and of the fact that investment and shipping call was poor.

In provisions, liquidating and short selling formed the rule as generally as with grain. The chief argument was that current levels were too high.

SPORTS OF THE DAY

EDITED BY DICK JEMISON

ATLANTA DEFEATED BY BOSTON BRAVES

Two Doubles in the Fourth Inning Give the Nationals Their Only Run — Billy and Dunn Shooed.

Macon, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—A couple of doubles bunched in the fourth inning enabled the Boston Braves to defeat Bill Smith's Crackers this afternoon by the score of 1 to 0 in a game that bristled with excitement, with Auggie Moran, the umpire, holding the center of the stage, as usual.

Bill Smith and his followers came to town looking for battle and in the sixth inning they proceeded to take it out on Umpire Moran.

Catcher Dunn complained of the umpire's judgment of balls and strikes and when Larry Gilbert received a free pass to first Dunn said something to Umpire Moran that caused the latter to order him out of the game. Manager Smith joined in and was promptly told to "beat it," and hastened to do so. Smith threatened to clean up the whole field.

Atlanta had no other catcher and the game was at a standstill for five minutes. Finally the Boston Braves agreed to let Dunn back in the game. Continual jeering followed, however.

The day was very hot and it was probably due to that fact that some beautiful baseball was uncorked. Boston had to step some to win. Though nine hits were made, none of them were bunched, except in one inning. The four hits credited to Atlanta were scattered through as many innings.

Atanta used Pete Browning, the former Detroit right-hander, to start and let a little fellow twirled an excellent game in the five innings he worked. Bill Perryman, whotwirled the last three innings for the Crackers was also in good form.

With these two going good it was up to Boston to do some swatting to get over the only tally of the game.

Wortman led down in the fourth. Deal doubled to left. Hank Gowdy put one in the same place for two bags and the lone run was scored. Bill Dahlen was at the game today. He is scouting for the Brooklyn team and was looking over both the Boston and Atlanta players.

The Braves and the Crackers will play the second game here tomorrow.

DUDLEY IS PLEASED WITH HIS BALL CLUB

Thomasville, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—Manager Dudley is patting himself on the back about his ball team, and says he wouldn't swap it for any he knows of since they showed up so well in the games with Albany, on the local diamond. With only four days of practice, he thinks it a fine record made by them, and by the time Montgomery comes he feels as if he can show them some sure enough playing.

Hall, a new pitcher, has made a record for himself by not allowing a hit from Albany until the sixth inning, and if he keeps on as he has begun the Hornets are going to have a bunch of artists of the pill, with Roth and Day of the old force and other new ones who are showing up well. About all the recruits are in now, and will have some hard practice from now on.

Davenport, Murch and Barnett are up to their best for last season already. Tolken, Ehlen and Leach, of the new men, show good material, though Leach, at short, is probably in need of more practice to show just what he is.

The team goes to Albany next week and plays Montgomery here on April 6 and 7.

COLLEGE BOYS HOLD PEACHES TO A TIE

Milledgeville, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—Georgia Military college and Macon Peaches had a royal battle today for eleven innings, neither team scoring. It was a well-played and exciting, as several men were put out at home plate trying to squeeze in the winning run.

Fast Little Bantams Fight At Orpheum Theater Tonight

Tonight's Card.

Jimmy Grant v. Knockout Eggers, 10 rounds.

Kid York v. Battling Kelly, 10 rounds.

Battling Sheppard v. Young Nelson, 10 rounds.

The best card of boxing bouts that have ever been arranged by an Atlanta promoter is the outlook tonight, when Promoter Castro presents the above card to local fans at the Orpheum theater.

Three ten-round bouts with plenty of speed, slugging, science, ring generalship, in fact everything that goes to make a good boxing bout will be exhibited throughout the thirty rounds, if they last that long.

It is the impression of many that the kay-o sign is going to be hung up by one of the boxers in each of the bouts. No one is willing to take a chance in forecasting which one of the men will hand it out.

The main bout naturally is the attraction. In Knockout Eggers, Grant will meet the very best boy that he has been forced to go up against since he has been boxing. Eggers is a real top-notcher and has been the trial horse for all the bantams in the country. Whenever a bantam licked Eggers he was always considered of championship caliber. Few of them have ever done so.

In Grant, Atlanta's aspirations for her colors to come to the front in the boxing game, as they have in others, rest.

Eggers and Grant are different types. The former is an experienced ringman, with a world of speed, wonderful boxing ability, but only a fair punch. Grant is not as fast, not as experienced, and not as good a boxer but he can hit, and he can hit with either hand.

Promoter Castro has offered an additional inducement to the two boys tonight. He will give the winner a crack at Kid Williams, the Baltimore sensation, considered by every one the next man to Coulon, the champion, and by some Coulon's equal.

The admission fee will be $1 for the balcony and gallery seats, $2 for ringside, boxes and the first twelve rows downstairs and $1.50 for the rest of the seats downstairs. Tickets are on sale at Tumlin's, the Rex or at the Orpheum.

Pirates and Braves Have Won Most Opening Games

By Ernest J. Lanigan.

Baseball dope is a very peculiar thing. Looking over the major league openings for the last ten years, one finds that the Pirates, who in this time have won only one flag, have landed eight of their opening controversies and so have the Braves, who generally have finished way down in the ruck.

The Naps, also non-pennant winners, have done splendidly at the kickoff, capturing seven contests. The White Elephants, with a record of four pennants in ten years, have broken away in front just six times and the Giants, who have annexed five gonfalons, have only won an even split in their pry-off combats. The McGrawites, moreover, have been blanked on opening day on four occasions. Six times have the Cardinals had to be content with one tally in their first championship contests.

Star pitchers do not always fare well when real hostilities commence. Cy Young was the twirler for the Boston Red Sox in four of their openers and he was bracketed only once. Joe Wood's record on getaway day shows one victory, two defeats and one tie. Nap Rucker has gone down to defeat three times when the championship lid was lifted and only once has led the Superbas to a triumph in an opening game. It was when G. Napoleon was operating on the mound, in 1912, that the Giants set a modern record for runs on the first day of the season by accumulating eighteen.

A luckless individual at the start of campaigns has been Arthur Fromme, of the Giants. He worked in three openers for the Reds and one for the Cardinals and defeat was his portion on each occasion.

Irving Meirose Young (Cy IL) was delegated three times while with the Braves to pitch the opening battle and on all three occasions he came through with wins. Once he let his opponents down with a safety. That trick also has been turned on opening day by Walter Johnson, the Chalmers car winner last season; Frank Paderewski Smith and George Mullin.

Johnson has won two of the three games he has pitched on opening day. So have Jack Coombs, Eddie Plank, Howard Camnitz, Addie Joss and Jeff Overall. Christy Mathewson copped both of the pry-off contests in which he toiled, as did "Babe" Adams.

TWO PHILLY TEAMS PLAY WEDNESDAY

Philadelphia, March 30.—Baseball will take its place on the sporting calendar of Philadelphia this week. The world's champion Athletics, who arrived home yesterday from their training trip, had planned to play the University of Pennsylvania at Shibe park today, but the game was called off because of wet weather. The two teams will play at Shibe park tomorrow.

The Philadelphia Nationals will return home Tuesday night, and on Wednesday will begin a series of nine games with the Athletics. Both teams will play all their regulars in the field during this series.

The Athletics' second team is still in the south.

Waycross, Ga., March 30.—(Special.) Backed by sensational fielding, Miller pitched Waycross to a 3 to 1 victory over the Philadelphia Athletic Yannigans this afternoon. Anderson's base running in the eighth, followed by hits by Fenton and Wassen and an error, enabled Waycross to put two over and break the 1 to 1 tie.

The visitors were outhit and outfielded. Miller fanned nine, the last three facing him in the ninth striking out. McInnis' one-handed stab at first was a feature, as was the playing of Jones at first.

RAIN PREVENTED MONDAY'S GAME

Manager Dent, of Pepperites, Called Off Contest With Naps—Try It Today, Weather Man Permitting.

Manager Elliott Dent, of the Atlanta Pepperites, strolled out of the dugout at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, took a look at the lowering skies and called off the scheduled pastime between his Pepperites and the Naps.

Ed showed the judgment of a regular manager, for ten minutes later Ponce de Leon was a veritable sea of mud. Ed was a regular manager, with a regular grip, though it lacked the supply of juicy weed that other managers carry around and only one new ball in its confines.

"Do we love our manager?" asked Dutch Munch, of the gang. "Yes, we do—NOT" answered all in chorus. It was a good day for kidding, joshing and —ducks.

Weather permitting, the teams will try it this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Both managers are reticent about their batting orders and batteries.

MARANVILLE TO WED.

Miss Elizabeth Shea Is Shortstop's Bride-to-Be.

The Springfield (Mass.) Union says that Walter ("Rabbit") Maranville, who is in Macon just at present going through spring training with the Boston Nationals, will marry Miss Elizabeth Shea, of that place, is given as the party with whom he will sign a life contract.

The article follows:

"Walter Maranville, shortstop of the Boston Braves and the idol of baseball fandom, to whom he is known as "Rabbit" Maranville, is to sign a life contract in the matrimonial league at the close of the baseball season this fall. The bride-to-be is Miss Elizabeth Shea, of 25 Cass street, and she blushingly admitted yesterday that there was both truth and poetry in the reported engagement. Miss Shea was reticent about saying anything for the papers.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 30.—A foreign attachment in a suit in assumpsit against the Exposition Park association, owners of the Pittsburg Federal league baseball club, was entered in the local courts today by Charles H. McSwigan, who claims the association is indebted to him for $3,460 for salary and commission for selling stock. Three local banks and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad were named as garnishees. The sheriff was directed to attack the lease hold and the Federal league franchise and all personal property of the defendant in the hands of the garnishees. Bail to dissolve the attachment was fixed at $6,920.

HOLLIS HURLEY SHOOTS D. S. SAYRE ON STREET

Americus, Ga., March 30.—(Special.) Conductor Hollis Hurley, of the Seaboard railway, and D. S. Sayre, proprietor of the Railway restaurant here, engaged in a serious personal difficulty tonight, the result of a business disagreement relative to the rental of a small store controlled by Sayre. The men clinched and while struggling on the sidewalk Hurley shot Sayre, once in the thigh and once in the abdomen. Hurley received a severe blow in one eye.

Neither of Sayre's wounds are considered serious, physicians state, and he was sitting upon his veranda when the doctors and officers arrived.

Hurley's friends promptly made bond for him and he returned to his home.

It was Conductor Hurley who three weeks ago turned up the four safe-crackers and mail train robbers now in the Montgomery jail.

Sweetest Voice in America Found by Ellison Van Hoose

The sweetest voice in America has been found by Ellison Van Hoose, the great tenor and native Georgian, according to a letter received in Atlanta yesterday.

Van Hoose, who is a brother of Professor A. W. Van Hoose, of Shorter college, and who is an ex-resident of Gainesville, Ga., his birthplace, is to take charge of her instruction.

She is Miss Alma R. Dwinell, of New Brighton, Staten Island, and has been awarded a $5,000 scholarship under the direction of the noted singer. There were 250 contestants in the prize award promoted by a woman, whose name is withheld.

In speaking of the girl's voice, Mr. Van Hoose said:

"Miss Dwinell possesses one of the most remarkable lyric soprano voices I have ever heard. I have no doubt she will equal, if not excel, Melba or Patti."

CONLEY IS ANXIOUS TO FACE ACCUSERS

Ivy Jones and Mary Rich Are Lying, He Tells His Counsel.

"If those negroes who accuse me will face me I will show them that they lie. They can't face me; they haven't the courage."

These were the words of Jim Conley, the convicted negro accomplice in the Mary Phagan murder, to his attorney, William M. Smith, when Smith apprised the negro of the affidavits of Ivy Jones and of Mary Rich, whose startling affidavits are contained in the re-trial motion of Frank's defense.

"I am ready to face them any day," Conley told his attorney. "They are lying, and they know it, and they don't dare confront me with their stories."

Conley's new trial motion will be presented to Judge Ben Hill at an early date, is was stated in the office of his counsel.

Negro Mangled by Train.

Cordele, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—The body of Jim Butts, a negro employee of the Georgia Southern and Florida railway, was cut into small fragments and scattered a mile along the tracks when he was struck by a northbound passenger train last night at a coal chute south of the city, where he was employed. The accident was discovered when persons passing along the tracks saw the torn clothing and bits of the body.

AT THE THEATERS.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

"The System" is the headliner at the Forsyth this week—and so is every number on the bill, judging by the way the audience last night took to them.

The whole bill is a corking good 'un, without a dull moment in it.

"The System" is a well-acted, well-staged sketch of the underworld, involving crooks and policemen and newspaper men, with a love thread the sustaining interest throughout.

"The System" is undoubtedly good, but when you have forgotten the little thrills that you got out of the troubles of Taylor Granville, as The Eli, and Laura Pierpont, as Goldie, you will still be laughing over the ridiculous aspects of Stan Stanley as he hovers in midair above his bouncing net. Until you have seen him, you cannot imagine yourself laughing at a man who, from all physical indications, is on the verge of breaking his neck.

Everybody, of course, is immensely proud of Harry Clarke, of the Trans-Atlantic Trio, because he is a former Atlanta boy coming home with a good act.

The most refreshing part of Harry Clarke's act is, perhaps, that he does not walk up to the front of the stage and make the following orthodox speech:

"Ladies and Gentlemen: Musicians the world over have contended that classical music cannot be played upon the banjo. I will now attempt to demonstrate for your approval that such is not the case, and that even grand opera can be beautifully rendered upon this instrument."

But, even if he opened his act accordin' to the book, he would make out his case, at that!

If one could tell from the program which of the team of Mang and Snyder is Mang and which is Snyder, a good paragraph or two could be written on the nonchalant manner in which Mang tosses 250-pound Snyder about the stage, or vice versa. But, of course, you can't tell from the program, and this will necessarily have to be omitted from this review.

Raymond and Caverly and Binns and Bert are also very entertaining. Oh, yes, and Grace Wilson. "That's all"—except the overture and the moving pictures, which are also good.

NED M'INTOSH.

"Northern Lights."

(At the Bijou.)

Dazzled by the awe-inspiring splendors of the aurora borealis which is a spectacular feature of "Northern Lights," this week's bill at the Bijou, an audience which filled every seat in the cosy Marietta street theater last night applauded Eddie Black and his associate players in a way to make it certain that the play was a huge success in every way. "Northern Lights" is a thriller in four acts, and was produced under the personal direction of H. Walter Van Dyke. The scenes are all laid in Montana.

The plot has to do with an uprising of Indians. The appearance of the aurora borealis is to be the signal for a massacre. The aurora borealis is a luminous phenomenon visible only at night and supposed to be of electrical origin.

The light effects used in the play last night were wonderfully realistic. Eddie Black has one of his favorite comedy roles and pleased the audience immensely. Miss Marie Claire and Miss Anna Brandt both had excellent roles. Edwin Vail, new leading man, was seen to advantage. Others in the cast who won favor were Frank Dare, Newton Ross, John Allen, R. H. Turner, Walter Van Dyke, Harry Skelton, Tim Carter, Miss Alice DeLane and Miss Margarite Bosel.

"The Irish Millionaire."

(At the Columbia.)

It was one of the largest crowds of the season which packed the Columbia theater at both matinee and night performances to see "The Irish Millionaire," with George Milton in the leading role. There were a number of acts which appealed to the crowd, but possibly none stronger than Milton's inimitable Irish comedy, of which he seems to have an unlimited supply. In the opposite parts Jennie Delmar and Dot Woods appeared to advantage.

The olio numbers are very good this week; in fact, it would be a hard matter to determine which is the best. Tom Willard and Frank Beaumont have good numbers, and the Densmore sisters do a refreshing turn.

"The Irish Millionaire" is well staged, and the costumes and the chorus are all that could be asked for. With the advent of summer the management has inaugurated summer prices, and this feature seemed to attract many of the old and some new patrons.

"Adele."

(At the Atlanta.)

Seats are now on sale at the Atlanta for the engagement of that beautiful musical play, "Adele," which will open Wednesday night and continue four nights with a Saturday matinee. Ask anybody who saw the play in New York and you will be told it is the best and prettiest musical farce in many years. It has a number of song hits which will long linger in one's memories, and altogether it is a musical treat of the rarest sort. It is also the most handsomely gowned play of the year and women will be shown such gowns as are seldom seen each performance. The critics of New Orleans last week pronounced "Adele" the best of the entire year and classed it far and away above the ordinary singing entertainments.

PAIN SUFFERERS USE A-K Tablets.

ALLEGED DRUG STORE BANDIT IS BOUND OVER

Will Davis, colored, accused of shooting Nathan Warshaw in Warshaw's drug store at 422 Mangum street several weeks ago, was held under bond of $1,000 yesterday afternoon by Recorder Broyles. Davis was captured recently by Plain Clothes Policemen Milam and Watson. He was identified by Warshaw as one of the two negroes who invaded his place, and, in a pistol duel, sent a bullet into the proprietor's shoulder.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Monday's real estate announcements included a large assortment of subdivision and lot sales and several exchanges of property. There was also the announcement of an important sale in Athens, but made by an Atlanta agent.

Lakewood Heights Sales.

The following is a list of recent sales made at Lakewood Heights:

Roy H. Welch, bungalow, $1,850; R. Frank James, bungalow, $2,000; S. C. Camp, bungalow, $1,900; L. R. Hopkins, bungalow, $2,000; Mrs. Bird, bungalow, $2,250; another bungalow, $2,250, trade pending; D. R. Williams, cottage, $1,200.

These are all new bungalows, which were sold as fast as they were completed. P. B. Hopkins is now building two more of these bungalows and already has prospective buyers.

"Home-seekers," he says, "are beginning to realize the great opportunity that the south side is offering for the medium-priced homes. Since my return from the west in November I have been continually building homes in Lakewood Heights and they are selling as fast as completed."

Lakewood Heights is just out of the city limits of Atlanta and therefore there is no report in the city building inspector's office. Nevertheless Lakewood Heights practically is part of Atlanta and a fast growing and a prosperous home-owning community.

POSTOFFICES WILL AID THOSE SELLING COUNTRY PRODUCE

Postmaster General Burleson has advised Postmaster Bolling H. Jones, of Atlanta, that his department is anxious to work out and perfect a system whereby the producer and consumer can be placed in close and practical touch with each other, especially in farm products and other household commodities admissible to the parcel post service.

In his advices to Postmaster Jones, the postmaster general says that the Atlanta postoffice has been selected as one of the few experimental offices in the country for exploitation purposes along the lines indicated.

"It has been decided," says the postmaster general to Atlanta's postmaster, "to have postmasters at certain offices having printing presses publish a list of names and addresses of producers who desire to sell country produce direct to the consumer."

Directing Postmaster Jones to give this feature all the publicity possible in the daily and weekly press within his territory, the postmaster general tells him to ask all farmers desiring the trade indicated to have their names sent in at once to be placed on a record which shall be listed under three heads—"butter, eggs and general produce."

"When a sufficient number of names are received," says the order, "they should be compiled, printed and distributed upon application or by city carriers to persons who are likely to make use of such lists."

10 CENT "CASCARETS" IS YOUR LAXATIVE

Best Liver and Bowel Cleanser and Stomach Regulator Known.

Get a 10-cent box.

Put aside—just once—the Salts, Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters which merely force a passageway through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your "insides" pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, Coated Tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

Empty Seats at Church At Evening Services Explained by Pastors

"Why church members don't go to church at night," was probed Monday morning at the meeting of the Ministers' Association of the Methodist church at the Wesley Memorial church. That evening congregations fall short of the morning services was admitted by all the ministers present, several of whom had already made an investigation in their own churches.

The servant problem was involved in one answer.

One man stated that he lived in a scattered community, and that he was afraid to leave his wife and children alone. One man declared that Sunday was his only day of rest; that he attended the Sunday school service and morning service, but that during the afternoon he always took his family on a long automobile ride, returning home too late at night for the evening services.

The large attendance and the spirit of the old-fashioned "revival meetin's" were characteristic of the services which were conducted by Luther R. Bridgers, the boy evangelist, at the First Methodist church last night.

A special feature of the services was the singing of the Bearden sisters, whose talents are well known in Atlanta.

Mr. Bridgers will preach the rest of this week, holding services at 10:30 o'clock in the mornings and at 7:30 o'clock in the evenings.

Hope For Bald Heads

Well Known Politician Nearly Bald Now Has Heavy Growth of Hair.

Tells How He Did It.

A western politician, well known on account of his baldness and his ready wit, surprised his friends by appearing with a heavy growth of hair; many of his friends did not know him, and others thought he had a wig. On being asked how he did it, he made the following statement: "I attribute the growth of my hair to the following simple recipe which any lady or gentleman can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of Glycerine. Apply to the scalp two or three times a week with the finger tips. It not only promotes the growth of the hair, but removes dandruff, scalp humors and prevents the hair from falling out. It darkens streaked, faded, gray hair and makes the hair soft and glossy. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home."

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers, Drink Lots of Water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.
